MERCILESS GRILL FOR NEW HAVEN ROAD DIRECTORS

COMMERCE BOARD OUT WITH SCATHING BLAST

Calls Financial Course Most Glaring Instance of Maladministration in American Railroading

DIRECTORS CRIMINALLY NEGLIGENT

Washington, July 13.—"One of the most glaring instances of maladministration revealed in all the history of American railroading" is the interstate commerce commission's characterization of its findings in the investigation of New Haven railroad financial affairs, reported today to the senate.

In a report of 30,000 words, probably the most drastic in terms of any ever made by the commission, the New Haven's directors were pronounced "criminally negligent."

Evidence pointing to be violations of law has been transmitted to district attorneys in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York and the federal department of justice.

Loss $60,000,000 to $90,000,000.

"A reasonable estimate of the loss to the New Haven by reason of waste and mismanagement," says the report, "will amount to between $60,000,000 and $90,000,000. Directors should be made individually liable to civil and criminal laws for the manner in which they discharge their trust."

All the commission's strictures were upon the management of the New Haven system under former President Mellen.

In justice to the present management the commission says it is but fair to say that Chairman Howard Elliott and Walker D. Hines, special counsel, "have co-operated with the commission and rendered it substantial assistance throughout this investigation."

Some "Significant Incidents."

Among the "marked features and significant incidents" in the loose extravagant and improvident administration of the finances of the New Haven as shown in this investigation are:

The Boston & Maine despoilment.

The inequality of the Westchester acquisition.

The double price paid for the Rhode Island trolleys.

The recklessness in the purchase of Connecticut and Massachusetts trolleys, prices exorbitantly in excess of their market value.

The unwarranted expenditure of large amounts in "educating public opinion."

The disposition without the knowledge of the directors of hundreds of thousands of dollars for influencing public sentiment.

The habitual payment of vouchers without any specification of details.

The confusing inter-relation of the principal company and its subsidiaries and consequent complication of accounts.

Financial Legerdemain.

The practice of financial legerdemain in issuing large blocks of New Haven stocks for notes of the New England Navigation company, and manipulating these securities back and forth.

SORRY BEASTLY THING FIZZLED

Annie Bell Proud of Her Attempt to Blow Up Famous Church.

London, July 13.—When Annie Bell, the militant suffragette, was arraigned today for trying yesterday to destroy Archdeacon Wilberforce's famous old church of St. John, Evangelist, Westminster, with a bomb, she said, "the only thing I regret is that the beastly thing did not go off."

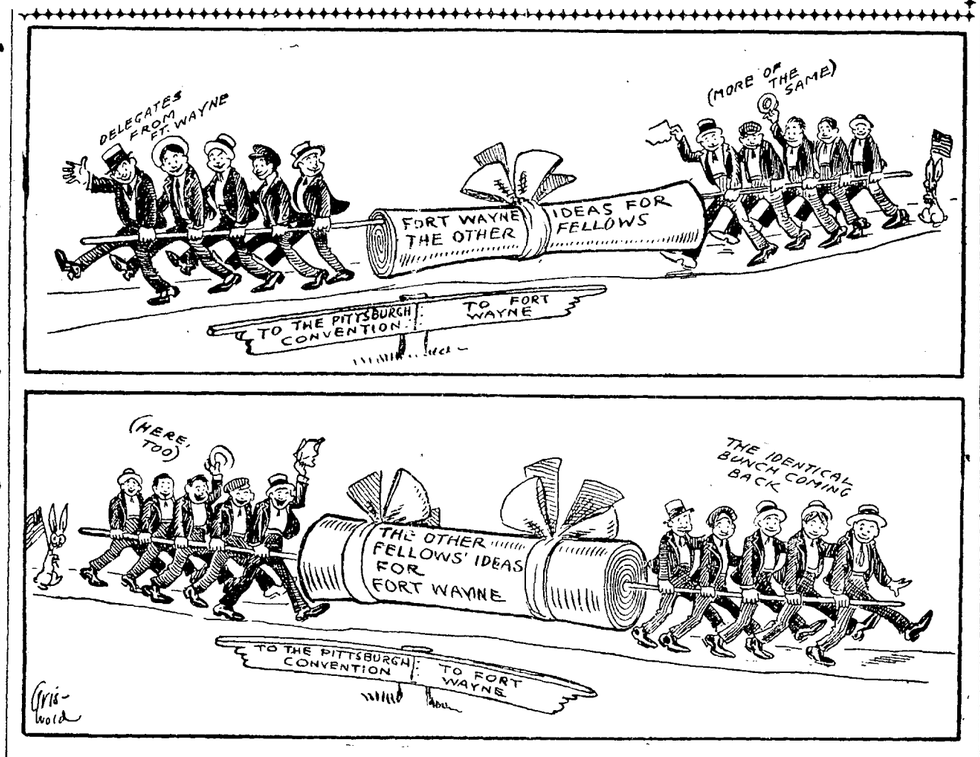

The prisoner expressed intense pride in her act. She congratulated the woman worshipper who had detected her setting fire to the fuse attached to a can of gunpowder and said her smartness was worthy of a better cause. She advised her to become a militant suffragette.

"I meant the bomb to go off and blow up the church right enough," said Miss Bell.

The prisoner then stretched herself at full length on the seat in the prisoners' enclosure and asked the woman warden to give her a pillow and wake her when the case had concluded.

"Good bye, you paid bully," was Miss Bell's farewell to the magistrate when he remanded her.

NEXT BIG SCENE AT MEXICO CITY

Foreign Nations Frown on Military Occupation of Capital.

BULLETIN.

Mexico City, July 13.—Authoritative quarters here today declare that unless a quick agreement is reached between the contending factions in Mexico, Francisco Carbajal, minister for foreign affairs, will sever his connection with the administration.

BULLETIN.

Washington, July 13.—General Carranza formally notified the United States today that he would engage in no mediation whatever with the Huerta delegates and would accept only terms of absolute surrender..

* * *

Washington, July 13.—Mexico City was looked to today as the place where the next big scene in the Mexican situation would be staged. Huerta is to quit and turn over the government affairs to his new minister, Francisco Carbajal, and hope was entertained that the government would eventually be turned over to the constitutionalists without further shedding of blood.

Carranza has announced his unwillingness to deal with Carbajal, regarding him as the creation of Huerta. Nevertheless, it has been suggested that parleys for the quick transition of power might take place if Carbajal appeared in the role of representative of a faction, rather than as provisional head of a government which the constitutionalists are to recognize.

BILLY BAXTER'S LIFE IS ENDED

Death Claims Famous Old-Time Minstrel Man at Chicago.

Chicago, July 13.—Billy Baxter, old time minstrel who had played with nearly all of the leading minstrel companies of America and who had appeared before the royalty of Europe with his banjo, died at a hospital here last night of cirrhosis of the liver.

Born in Cincinnati, Ohio in 1861, he turned early too the stage where his musical talent soon won him a place among the stars of minstreley. He made several tours of the world and on many occasions rulers of Europe requested him to play and sing the old "darkey" songs.

A few years ago he retired from the stage and since then had made his home at the Press club in this city. Nearly every night he entertained the newspaper men with his stringed instrument and southern melodies. He will be buried under the auspices of the press club tomorrow.

DOESN'T ACCEPT CARMAN'S THEORY

State's Attorney Scoffs at Idea That Shot Was Intended for Doctor.

Freeport, N. Y., July 13.—Investigation of the murder on June 30 of Mrs. Louise Bailey in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman, has led District Attorney Smith to form a new theory which is in direct contradiction to that brought forward by Dr. Carman that the murderer had planned to kill him and not his patient.

A chart, which the district attorney has had prepared, shows, he says, the identical positions occupied by Dr. Carman and Mrs. Bailey and shows that only the narrowest part of the physician's shoulders could have been visible to the slayer, while an almost unobstructed view of Mrs. Bailey was obtainable. The district attorney also declared that he was positively satisfied that "the shot was fired by a person who knew every inch intimtely of the inside of the room in which the killing occurred." Dr. Carman asserted that he believed the slayer of Mrs. Bailey intended to kill him, but because he was out of range of the revolver at the moment he escaped.

The grand jury will continue to sit this week, but an indictment, if one is voted, charging Mrs. Carman with the crime, is not expected before the end of the week.

Was War Veteran and Also Pioneer Pennsylvania Employe.

Edward Gilmartin, pioneer lumber dealer and a veteran railroader, died at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning at his home, 209 West Williams street, at the age of seventy-four years. Mr. Gilmartin was head of the firm of E. Gilmartin & Sons, lumber dealers. He had been a resident of Fort Wayne since 1864.

Mr. Gilmartin was one of the best known business men in Fort Wayne. He had been in the lumber business here since 1887, after retiring from railroad activity. He was a leading democrat several years ago and his power and influence in the affairs of the city of Fort Wayne was widespread and strong.

He was a native of Ireland and was born in County Queens, January 13, 1840. He came to America in 1860 and located first in Columbus, Ohio, where he was employed by the Western Union Telegraph company. He was a veteran of the civil war and during the rebellion served as builder of the military telegraph lines for the Army of the Potomac. In 1862, while working on a cable from Cape Charles to Fortress Monroe, he was shipwrecked and the harrowing experience was one of his best remembered incidents during his life of activity.

In 1864 he was employed to assume charge of the telegraph lines of the western division of the Pennsylvania company, and came to Fort Wayne. In

TAFT'S NAME UP AMONG THE REST

Discussing Possible Names for Supreme Court Place.

Washington, July 13.—Discussion as to whom President Wilson might appoint to fill the vacancy on the supreme court bench caused by the death of Associate Justice Lurton continued here today. The names of those mentioned in connection with the vacancy include former President Taft, members of the cabinet and others.

In official circles there was some discussion as to the choice of a successor to Justice Lurton, but no one cared to venture an opinion as to whom the president might appoint. It is not believed that the president has yet even considered any name in connection with the vacancy. As a result of Justice Lurton's death the president will be called upon to make his first appointment to the supreme bench.

In addition to Mr. Taft those mentioned include Attorney General McReynolds, Secretaries Lane and Garrison, Senator Shields of Tennessee, a former justice of the supreme court of that state; Frederick W. Lehman, former solicitor general and one of the American delegates to the Mexican peace congress at Niagara Falls, and that of John W. Davis, of West Virginia, the solicitor general.

Former President Taft is known to have had an ambition to round out his career as a justice of the highest court of the land. Whether he still cherishes that ambition is not known here. When it was reported last winter that Justice Lurton was about to retire it was suggested that Mr. Taft might be offered the place, but it was stated at the white house that his name had not been mentioned. In official circles it is not thought likely that the president will appoint a member of the cabinet because of his desire to go through his term without a change in his official family.

Before the death of Justice Lurton the supreme court was made up of six republicans and three democrats. By his death the democratic representation on the bench is reduced to two, Chief Justice White and Associate Justice Lamar. It is thought under these circumstances, it is likely the president will name a democrat for the vacancy. Furthermore there has been a rule in the senate, which must confirm the nomination, that the minority membership shall not fall below three at any time.

Belief was expressed in congress today that the president will make the appointment before adjournment so that the nominee may be confirmed in time to take his seat in the court at the beginning of the fall term in October.

LAST BALLOON HAS REPORTED

San Francisco 1915 Makes Landing in Illinois on Sunday.

St. Louis, July 13.—The San Francisco 1915, piloted by E. S. Cole, of St. Louis, landed eleven miles southeast of McLeansboro, Ill., at 10 o'clock a. m. Sunday according to a telegram from Pilot Cole today. It was the last to report of the ballons which started in the elimination contest which was begun here Saturday afternoon. Of the seven which reported yesterday six had not covered 200 miles. Their progress was hampered first by the lack of strong air currents—at any altitude—and later by terrific storms, which the balloonists encountered miles above the earth.

The "Goodyear," piloted by R. A. D. Preston, of Akron, Ohio, made the best record of those reported down yesterday. Preston and his aide, M. D. Tremlin, also of Akron, landed at Constance, Ky., somewhat more than 300 miles from St. Louis in an air line. The Aero club of America will now begin at New York compiling the official distances covered by each contestant and the balloon which lands farthest from St. Louis will be the third American balloon to start next October in the international race.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 13.—The strike in the Westinghouse factories was formally ended today when approximately 8,000 men and women returned to the shops. BIG BUILDING HIT IN STORM

SAVED BY MANAGER AND HIS EMPLOYES

Heavy Thundershowers in Fort Wayne Break the Heat Wave.

During the electrical storm early Monday morning a bolt of lightning followed the wires of the lighting system into the basement of the big pavilion at Robison park and set fire to the stock of provisions and later attacked the floor, but the presence of fire hose, a water supply and some fast and effective work on the part of Manager C. H. Williams and three of his employes saved the structure from destruction.

George Frame, Ira Parker and Paul Spratis sleep in the building and the manager also makes his home there. They were awakened by the blinding flash of lightning and the terrific detonation of the thunder that followed, but until the smoke from the burning cellar found its way into their sleeping apartments they had no idea that a bolt had entered the building.

With the manager all got out in their night clothing, unreeled the hose kept for just such emergencies and attacked the blaze. It was stubborn and hard to overcome, but there was no chance to obtain assistance and the men stuck at their task until the flames were extinguished with a loss estimated at from $300 to $400.

Washington, July 13.—President Wilson today nominated Mark Storen, of Scottsburg, Ind., for United States marshal for Indiana.

The position is now held by Edgar H. Schmidt, of Indianapolis, a republican appointee of President Taft. Mr. Schmidt's term of office does not expire until next year. His resignation was recently requested from Washington, but it is not believed to have been forthcoming.

Mr. Schmidt's place has been sought by a number of Indiana democrats, but it has been known for some time that Mr. Storen was slated for the appointment.

ORANGEMEN ARE OUT IN FORCE

Intense Feeling Pervades Day's Celebrations in Ireland.

Belfast, Ireland, July 13.—The insistent demand of the Protestant portion of the province of Ulster for the exclusion from the operations of the Irish home rule, lent added interest to today's celebration of the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne. The celebration was carried out here with great enthusiasism. Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster unionist leader, rode at the head of some 5,000 Orangemen, accompanied by the usual fife and drum bands and including a sprinkling of brethren from the United States and the British colonies.

They marched through the city of Belfast to drum beat, where it was addressed by Sir Edward and other leaders. The Nationalist quarter of Belfast was carefully avoided by the demonstrants and on no occasion during the procession did the rival factions come into contact. So little did the authorities expect trouble that they depended entirely on the local police force to keep order, but all the military were confined to barracks as is usually the case during political demonstrations.

PREPARE FOR A CLASH.

Londonderry, Ireland, July 13.—The Orangemen here began the celebration of the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne with a parade during which they projected their explosives so that they burst over the residences in the Catholic section. The nationalists believing the cannonade to be the prelude to aggressive action on the part of the Orangemen, organized for the defense, but up till noon no collision between the two parties had taken place.

While the Orangemen were attending church on Sunday and the police were busy guarding their processions the nationalist volunteers succeeded in bringing into the city two automobile loads of rifles.

SCENE OF ENTHUSIASM.

Drumbeg, Ireland, July 13.—The Orangemen's demonstration here today culminated in a scene of immense enthusiasm around the tiny platform where Sir Edward Carson, bible in hand, pledged the covenanters never to surrender to coercion, to remain loyal to the thone and never to waver in their support of their leaders in the fight against home ule.

Sir Edward Carson in a speech which evoked tremendous enthusiasm served notice on the British government that unless it was prepared to leave Ulster alone it would very shortly find the Ulstermen recognizing no government except the provisional government of Ulster.

SAY BUSINESS GROWS BETTER

More Business Men Meet President to Talk of Conditions.

Washington, July 13.—President Wilson today continued his conferences with business men on conditions throughout the country and bearing on the anti-trust program. He saw Raphael Herman, of Detroit, and Joseph G. Branch, of Chicago. Other conferences of a similar nature will be held at the white house later this week.

Mr. Herman, who was introduced to the president by Representative Doremus, of Michigan, told the president that, in his opinion, business men generally agreed that anti-trust legislation should be put through at the present session of congress and that business conditions generally were improving.

President Wilson today denied that there was any conflict between him and the senate over the nominations of Paul Warburg and Thomas D. Jones as members of the federal reserve board. In talks with callers he declared he was working in complete harmony with the democratic majority in the senate, with only one or two exceptions. Mr. Wilson said he had definite assurance Mr. Jones would be confirmed. He did not discuss the case of Mr. Warburg except to say that he thought the senate as a whole would be perfectly fair.

A Fall Prophecy.

If your great-grandmother were alive she would say when you showed her the new design for fall: "This is just the kind of a gown I wore when I was a girl".

It's not quite the same, for the very narrow underskirt had no place in grandmother's wardrobe.

But the tight "darted" waist and the tight sleeves "set in" at the armhole was considered quite as stylish then as they are now. You may also look for the new full tunics that are gathered about the waist and the sash that ties either in the front or back.

Funeral Party With Body of Late Justice Lurton Now En Route.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 13.—En route to Clarksville, Tenn., where funeral services and interment will occur, the funeral party accompanying the remains of the late Justice Lurton, of the United States supreme court, whose death occurred suddenly here yesterday, left Atlantic City today. Owing to a change of route the party will not pass through the capital.

Chief Justice White, at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., has arranged to go to Clarksville with Justice Lamar, but other members of the court, widely scattered for their summer vacations, may not be able to attend.

End Comes Suddenly.

Justice Lurton was 70 years old, and death was due to heart failure superinduced by cardiac asthma. He had been in impaired health for some time, but his sudden death was unexpected.

The justice, who came here on July 1, was in his usual health before retiring Saturday night and had taken his customary evening outing on the board walk. Shortly after midnight he complained of feeling ill, and although his physician, Dr. Ruffin, who arrived yesterday from Washington, was immediately summoned, Justice Lurton died at 5 o'clock Sunday morning. His wife and his son, Horace H. Lurton, jr., of Nashville, were at the bedside.

Horace Harmon Lurton was born at Newport, Ky., in 1844. He was educated in the public schools, Douglas university and Cumberland university and served three years in the confederate army. He was appointed chancellor of the Sixth chancery district of Tennessee by Governor Porter in 1874 to fill a vacancy and in 1876 he was elected without opposition to the same position. Later he was elected judge of the supreme court of Tennessee and in 1893 was chosen chief justice of that tribunal. He was appointed circuit judge for the Sixth judicial district of the United States by President Cleveland the same year and was appointed by President Taft to be associate justice of the supreme court of the United States December 20, 1909, taking his seat on the bench January 3, 1910.

said, might frown on such a course. They regard with apprehension the possibility of fighting in Mexico City and forceful assumption of power without some previous guarantee to the populace. It has been strongly intimated that if Carranza, after Huerta's elimination, should insist upon his original program disapproval would be manifested by several nations. They might refuse to recognize the constitutionalist leader unless he showed a disposition to give some quarter.

Little Further Fighting.

Indications were not lacking, however, that a way may be found for the transfer of power without much further fighting. The impression prevailed widely in Washington that hostilities in Mexico were near an end. It was suggested that if arrangements of peace were settled upon Carranza could enter the capital with only a comparatively small force to help preserve order. The remainder of his armies would remain at the capital's gates or near their present quarters to be disposed upon the restoration of peace.

All hope of any parley between representatives of Huerta who took part in the Niagara proceedings and the constitutionalists upon the basis proposed by the South American representatives has been abandoned. Carranza has not formally replied to the mediators' proposal, but official messages from his headquarters at Saltillo have indicated what his reply would be. General Villa was reported to have received a message from Carranza, asserting offers of mediation by the South American envoys in Mexico's internal affairs would not be accepted. Carranza was quoted as saying the only thing he would accept was the surrender of Huerta and his army.

Expect Him to Quit Soon.

Huerta, it was believed, would quit his office some day this week. Automatically the new foreign minister, Francisco Carbajal, would assume the role of provisional president. Carbajal is a man of law. He is less than fifty years old. Of an academic temperament, he never has served in the army. He came into international prominence as the envoy of Diaz at the Juarez peace conference in 1911 after the Madero revolution.

A few weeks ago he was elected chief justice of the republic's supreme court, after serving several years as associate justice. He received his education in Mexico. He is said to be of a conciliatory disposition, anxious for the restoration of order and not likely to elect to resist with an army the approach of the constitutionalists.

CURRENCY FOR CARRANZA.

Shipment of $5,000,000 Delivered to Agents at Juarez.

El Paso, Texas, July 13.—Five million dollars in constitutionalist currency and a freight car filled with stamping machines, were delivered in Juarez, Mexico today by Villa agents to Alberto Pani, special representative of Carranza. The money and machinery were seized several weeks ago in Juarez by Villa officials from Serapo Aguirro, treasurer general of the constitutionalists. Soldiers guarded the car and its contents after its arrival in Juarez last night from Chihuahua City. The currency will be shipped to Carranza headquarters in Monterey, according to constitutionalist officials here. It was reported that Treasurer Aguirro and the other Carranza officers who have been held as prisoners in Chihuahua were at liberty and would arrive on the border this week. They will accompany Gen. Villa to Juarez when he makes his flying trip northward, said Carranza agents here today.

1867 he was united in marriage to Miss Katheryn Lynch.

Mr. Gilmartin was transferred to the Grand Rapids and Indiana road in 1870 and remained with that company until 1887, when he retired to engage in private business. He first dealt in telephone and telegraph poles, but later went into the lumber business, and at the time of his death was the active head of the firm he founded. His illness dated from last January, and it is said his death was due to Bright's disease and other complications.

He was one of the oldest members of St. Patrick's Catholic parish and was identified with the Holy Name society, the Sacred Heart league, the Catholic Knights of America and the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Surviving he leaves the widow and eight of a family of eleven children, as follows: Mrs. W. B. McDonald, of Kalispel, Mont.; W. H. Gilmartin, of Nevada; M. J., E. T., F. J., Mary, Helen and Alice Gilmartin, all of this city. He also leaves a brother and sister, William Gilmartin and Mrs. Mary Dalaney, of County Queens, Ireland. He leaves six grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

No arrangements have been perfected at this time for the funeral, but friends are asked to kindly omit flowers.

BIG BUILDING HIT IN STORM

The flames found their way into Mr. Williams' private office and destroyed all of his correspondence and a number of important papers and some of the souvenirs for Boys' day on Wednesday of this week went up in smoke. The desk, the chairs and Mr. Williams' clothing went along with his other effects, but the fire will not interfere with business at the park as the stores have been replenished and more souvenirs will be obtained.

Fortunately the flames were discovered before they had made any great headway as the building is all of wood and was unusually dry on account of the extremely warm weather.

Hits Signal Box.

Shortly before 1 o'clock Monday afternoon lightning struck the traction company's signal box on Clinton street, between Main and Berry, and after burning out the insulation there the bolt communicated itself to the direct cables leading to the main office of the Home Telegraph and Telephone company and burned out a large number of fuses.

This damage was quickly repaired, but the odor of the burning insulation permeated the atmosphere of the entire business district and the company's wires were kept busy for more than a half hour by calls from business houses and others interested to determine the cause of the odor, greatly resembling burning rubber.

Weather Man Shocked.

When a bolt of lightning sailed across the business district of the city in the vicinity of Berry and Calhoun streets, B. A. Stewart, apprentice weather observer, was knocked from a chair while working in the local station of the government weather bureau on the ninth floor of the Shoaff building. He was badly shocked, but recovered from the effects within a few minutes.

Heavy Precipitation.

The storm broke early Monday morning and was preceded by a severe electrical demonstration, accompanied by loud claps of thunder. The precipitation up to 7 o'clock Monday morning totaled .38 of an inch, and from 7 o'clock until noon the precipitation amounted to .26 of an inch. The heaviest rainfall, it is said, was registered shortly after 12 o'clock Monday noon. So heavy was the precipitation for a time that it was almost impossible to see for more than a half block in any direction.

The rain at its worst came just as hundreds of store and office employes and shopmen were leaving for their noonday lunch and scores of people in the downtown district were drenched.

Freakish Lightning.

The eletcrical portion of the storm was of the freakish variety and while several narrow escapes from injury were reported at noon, no serious fires followed the storm. The department made one run to the building at 119 East Main street, owned by Horace Mariotte and occupied by the Budweiser saloon and the store room of the Blue Cast Springs company. Lightning followed electrical wires to the basement of the building and when the bolt reached a junction between the wire and some exposed gas pipe, a blaze followed and burned a large hole in the floor of the building, resulting in a loss of approximately $25.

At Transfer Corner.

Lightning played freakishly about the transfer corner and at noon a bolt came in contact with the heavy network of traction company wires over the street, followed them for a while and then jumped to one of the support posts and went to the ground. About thirty people were standing in convenient doorways at the time and witnessed the spectacle, but nobody was shocked by the lightning.

Another bolt followed the trolley wires down Calhoun street, from Washington boulevard to Jefferson street, where it came in contact with the trolley pole of a [illegible] time the cars were stranded without power.

Corn is Laid Low.

West and northwest of Churubusco the storm is reported to have been of particular intensity, and reports Monday afternoon were to the effect that hundreds of acres of corn in that region had been beaten down by the storm.

During the play of the lightning shortly after the noon hour a telephone pole in front of the Kayser & Baade grocery, at Broadway and Jefferson street, was struck by the current, but no damage resulted to its surroundings.

Humidity is High.

While the rain was expected to bring relief from the intense heat, no relief was felt in Fort Wayne during the morning, because of the high humidity. It was reported about noon that the relative humidity totaled 90 degrees. This was due, it is said, to the fact that the early morning rains were followed by periods when the skies cleared and the sun beat down with a vengence, it seemed. Early in the afternoon, nowever, the atmosphere had cooled considerably and with fresh winds from the west and southwest, Fort Wayne enjoyed its first cool breath in several days.

Officials in the weather bureau declare that the rainstorm extends over an area from the Mississippi river east to the coast, and it is liable to continue indefinitely.

Hail in Morning.

For a period of more than five minutes the rain early Monday morning was accompanied by a heavy hail storm. The hail at times measured a half-inch in diameter, and it is feared that it did a great deal of damage to maturing fruit and berries. A slight fall of hail came during the forenoon.

Most of the Allen county wheat crop has been cut and shocked and was not damaged by the storm, but the heavy rain and hail, early in the day, is said to have caused a little damage to the ripening oats.

Lightning Slays Five Cows.

During the heavy electrical and rain storm that swept over Fort Wayne and vicinity shortly after 4 o'clock Monday morning five cows were killed by lightning on the farm of William Becket, about three miles north of the city on the St. Joe road. The cows had taken refuge from the storm under a large isolated elm tree in the field where they were pastured and after the manner of cattle had their heads together about the trunk of the tree. A bolt of lightning struck the tree and the entire bunch of cows were laid dead in a heap. The cows were all milk producers of good breed and the loss to Mr. Becket is heavy.

Lightning struck the residence of J. E. Gruber on Brackenridge street but did no serious damage.

DROWNS IN SHALLOW WATER.

Andrews Man Loses Life During an Attack of Epilepsy.

Huntington, Ind., July 13.—His source of air cut off as he lay, face down, in water about one foot deep, Isaac Sharp, aged 42 years, of Andrews, was drowned in the Wabash river Sunday afternoon during an attack of epilepsy. The body of Sharp was found about 3 o'clock in the Wabash river near the Huntington-Dallas township line, two miles east of Andrews, by Bruce Ridley and a son of Michael Kinsy, who lives near the scene of the drowning. Sharp was subject to attacks of epilepsy. His body, when found, was slightly rigid and its position gives evidence that death came without great struggle during an attack of epilepsy. The body was lying with the face partly under the water, showing that death had been caused by asphyxiation.

Witnesses told to Coroner Galbreath a number of facts concerning the finding of the body and the position in which it lay. They said a bucket, in which six crawfish had been placed, was found on a large stone near the bank.

Between the place where the bucket had been placed and where the body of Sharp was found, three small stones in the body of the river had been turned over, indicating that Sharp had turned the stones over in his search for fish bait.

It is believed that Sharp suffered an attack of epilepsy as he stood in the river.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Delphos, O., July 13.—After nearly ten hours of deliberation in the case of Elias Miller, aged 36, of Middlepoint, charged with the murder of Joseph Frederick, of Lima, in this city, April 18, the jury returned a verdict of manslaughter. Judge Klinger, of Lima, heard the case. When it was announced that the jury had arrived at a verdict, Judge Klinger ordered that Miller be brought into court. Miller was in the indifferent mood that has characterized his conduct during the course of the trial and displayed no outward sign of emotion when the court read the verdict of the jury. Miller will be sentenced next Wednesday, the law providing that the sentence for manslaughter shall be an indeterminate term in the Ohio penitentiary.

THRASHING OUTFIT BURNED.

Marion, Ind., July 13.—Fire which destroyed a new thrashing machine and 240 bushels of wheat on the farm of George W. Wilson, seven miles east of this city, spread to the stubble field in which the thrashing work was in progress and in fighting the flames Mrs. Leo Wilson and Miss Gladys Wilson were overcome by the heat. Mrs. Wilson's face was burned to a blister and for a time her condition was critical. It is believed both women will recover. Matthew Nelson and Levi Conley, owners of the thrashing outfit, estimate their loss at $1,500, while George W. Wilson and two neighbors, whose wagons burned, lost about $500. The thrashing machine was new, having been used only since Monday. It was not insured.

BIG CROPS IN DEKALB.

Auburn, Ind., July 13.—That the wheat yield in DeKalb county this year will exceed the average yield for the last five years, is an opinion expressed by Herman L. Brown, of the firm of Wimer & Brown, local grain dealers. Mr. Brown said that the quality of the wheat this year is good and will equal that of 1913, while the acreage in wheat this year will exceed that of last year. Practically all the wheat in the county has been cut. The oats looks good and while the acreage is less than that of 1913, the quality of grain to be harvested promises to be good. There was a good hay crop this year in the county and prospects for a bumper corn crop are good.

LOCKJAW CAUSES DEATH.

Columbia City, Ind., July 13.—Lockjaw, which developed last Friday, caused the death of William Sievers, aged 51, a well known farmer residing three miles from this city. While unloading hay at his farm on the Fourth of July Sievers had boah bones in his wrist broken when he fell fror the load to the barn floor. He received prompt surgical attention, but te injury did not heal and on Friday tetanus developed. Anti-toxin was used, but the malady resisted that treatment and he died Sunday afternoon. He is survived by a widow and three children.

POULTRY THIEVES USE AUTO.

Huntington, Ind., July 13.—Chicken thieves in Union township are abreast of the times and instead of using the old-fashioned mysterious spring wagon with its innocent looking coops nailed on the bed they are using an automobile, according to farmers from that township. Albert Rice, residing just north of Mardenis, had 150 prize young chickens stolen from his coops. According to neighbors a motor car was heard chugging along the road near the Rice farm late in the night, and it is suspected the thieves used the car to transport their loot.

KENDALLVILLE CITY CLERK DIES.

Kendallville, Ind., July 13.—The burdens of age and the extreme heat are thought to have been the contributing causes to the attack of heart disease that resulted in the sudden death of William P. Myers, city clerk of Kendallville, near midnight Saturday. He was at work in his office during the day and apparently was in his usual health. The deceased had for eight years served as city clerk and was active and prominent in political and other public affairs of the city. Twenty years ago he came here from Auburn. A widow and three sons survive him.

JAY COUNTY MAN DIES AT 98.

Portland, Ind., July 13.—George Phalen, aged ninety-eight years and probably the oldest resident of the county, is dead at his late home six miles east of the city. He was taken ill of pneumonia one week ago, whiih resulted in death. The aged man was a son of George and Lusinda Phalen and was born in Ireland in the year 1816, and had been a resident of Jay county over fifty years. Mr. Phalen never married and in his deslining years his nephew and niedes, Robert, Lizzie and Mary Phalen took lare of him.

TO OVERCOME SUNBURN, TAN, FRECKLES, WRINKLES

If your skin is unduly wrinkled, freckled or tanned, dab a liberal amount of mercolized wax on the face and allow it to remain over night. When you wash off the wax in the morning, fine flaky, almost invisible particles of cuticle come with it. Repeating this daily, the entire outer skin is absorbed, but so gradually there's not the slightest hurt or inconvenience. Even the stubbornest freckles are affected. The underlying skin which forms the new complexion is so fresh and youthful looking, you'll marvel at the transformation. It's the only thing known to actually discard an aged, faded, muddy or blotchy complexion. One ounce of mercolized wax procurable at any drug store, is sufficient in most cases.

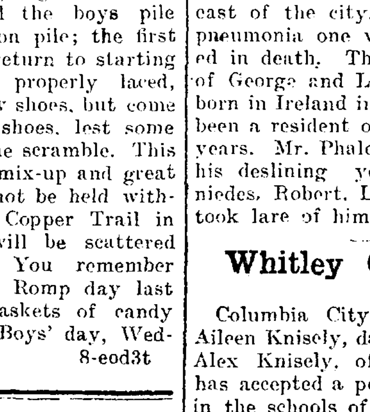

If sun and wins make you squint and frown, you're bound to cultivate wrinkles and crow's feet. To overcome these quickly, bathe the face in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel.

Boys' Day, Wednesday, July 15th

Five Cent Street Car Fare for All Boys and Girls.

The annual Boys' day will be held at Robison park on Wednesday, July 15th. The automobile that has been on exhibition in the Packard show window will be given away on Boys' day. Manager Williams has 1,000 kites for the boys of Fort Wayne. He also has 1,000 soap bubblers, 1,000 dancing balls and 500 kaleidoscopes as souvenirs. Then there are eighteen baseball suits, eighteen catchers' mitts, eighteen face masks and eighteen pairs of roller skates. Fifty baseballs will be thrown from the top of the theater building. Baseball bats of good quality will be given to twenty-four boys. The greased pole will have a special prize at its summit. There will be a potato race, a cracker-eating contest, a sack race, a frog race, a hopping race and a great, big, scrambling shoe race in which all the boys pile their shoes in a common pile; the first boy to find shoes and return to starting point with shoes on, properly laced, wins. Do not wear new shoes, but come to the park with old shoes, lest some good shoes be lost in the scramble. This race will be a mighty mix-up and great fun. Boys' day could not be held without the ever popular Copper Trail in which 1,000 pennies will be scattered along the pathway. You remember what sport it was on Romp day last year. Great bushel baskets of candy will be distributed on Boys' day, Wednesday, July 15th. 8-eod3t

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Acts 21:15-26.

15 And after those days we took up our carriages, and went up to Jerusalem.

16 There went with us also certain of the disciples of Caesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto James; and all the elders were present,

19 And when he had saluted them, he declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe; and they are all zealous of the law:

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have a vow on them;

24 Them take, and purify thyself with them, and be at charges with them, that they may shave their heads: and all may know that those things, whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, and keepest the law.

25 As touching the Gentiles which believe, we have written and concluded that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them entered the temple, to signify the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that an offering should be offered for every one of them.

Inheritance Tax Income.

Original estimates that Indiana's inheritance tax law, passed by the last legislature, would yield a revenue of something like $500,000 to the state annually do not appear to be borne out by reports of the actual operation of the law just made by Albert E. Humke, the inheritance tax investigator. Rather, it seems that $300,000 will be an outside estimate on the revenues from this source, and the total may fall short of even that figure.

For the three months, ending June 30, a total of $78,199.70 has been assessed as inheritance tax in the state. Of this sum, $19,971.01 was paid in Marion county. A substantial part of the tax during the last quarter came from the Wyman estate in St. Joseph county, which yielded $16,085, and which is the largest sum yet paid by any one estate. Allen county was a substantial contributor, with $1,446.85 from the estate of A. E. Hoffman, and $544.04 from the estate of Myron Downing, both of Fort Wayne. Huntington county's largest contribution was $163.35 from the estate of Olive O. Nelson.

Aside from these assessments, the state has received some $38,000 for the thirteen months the law has been in operation, but it is to be borne in mind that the law did not become compulsory until a year after its passage, and that sums paid in prior to the quarter just ended were contributed voluntarily. With a basis of something like $78,000 per quarter, then, it seems fair to conclude that the half million yield counted upon each year by those who framed the law can scarcely be reached for some years, at least.

Despite ordinances and police regulations designed to control the situation, complaint is made that boys and young men who are making use of the rivers as swimming places in full view of residential sections of the city are shockingly inconsiderate of conventionalities in the matter of disrobing to don bathing attire. It is true that the city should provide swimming pools with suitable dressing enclosures, and the time will come when this will be a part of the park department's system, but lack of present facilities of this kind does not justify offenses as now perpetrated. Some especial vigilance on the part of the police would doubtless have a salutary effect.

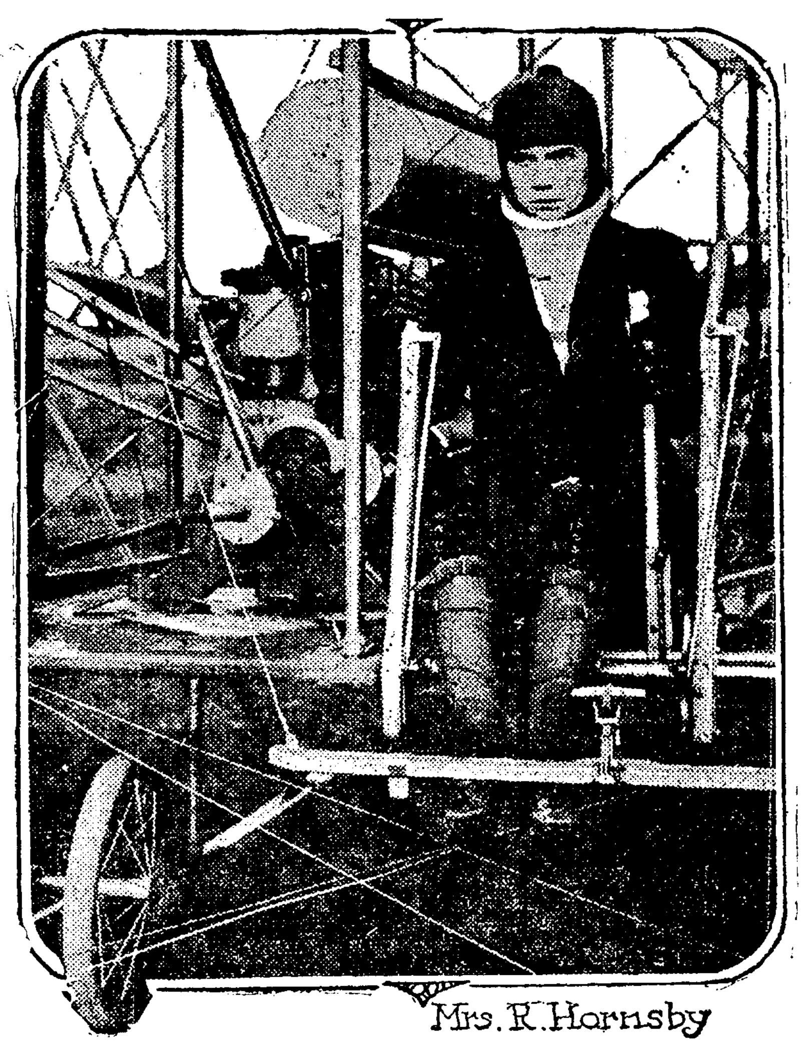

Conviction and a fine of $500 has followed a second trial on appeal of an Indianapolis meat packer on a charge of having in his possession unwholesome meat with intent to dispose of it as food. The outcome is only after a strenuous fight by attorneys to save their client, and it is announced that further appeal will be taken. There is every inducement for a battle in the case to the bitter end. It is unfortunate if an innocent man be forced to lie under charge of this character, but what is more essential is that if that sort of thing is being practiced, the public ought to have the fullest information regarding it.

Telegraphic dispatches recording temperatures during the present torrid wave, make it clearly apparent that civic rivalry has progressed to a point of intensity where ambitious towns have lost sight of other points of distinction and are attempting to grab off the heat record against all comers.

Meanwhile, what have you done toward furthering the project for a convention hall in Fort Wayne? This is one of the pressing needs that should not be set aside, and it is a movement that deserves universal support. Get behind it and do your part.

General Huerta may be really going to resign according to the latest forecasts, but this thing has missed fire so often that nothing less than a visible demonstration will inspire general confidence in the newest declaration to that effect.

"FLYING NO JOB FOR WOMAN," SAYS THE GREATEST WOMAN FLYER.

Mrs. R. Hornsby

Chicago, July 13.—Flying is no job for women—and never will be!

"Nature herself has forbidden them to risk their lives foolishly in the air. Through the mother instinct in them Nature will hold them always close to mother earth."

It was one of the most expert of the world's six licensed bird-women who, at my question, thus excluded the rest of her sex from participation in the great air game of which she herself is a master.

Mrs. Richberg Hornsby of Chicago is the first and only pupil of Orville Wright.

"The prettiest flying I ever saw a beginner do!" was Wright's exclamation twice repeated, during Mrs. Hornsby's trials.

During the first flight which has just won her the license, her plane was nearly upset by a sudden thirty-mile gust of wind. Only her coolness and daring in shutting off the engine and soaring to earth from a great height saved her life.

"Oh, yes," said Mrs. Hornsby, "we women have daring enough. Lincoln Beachey has said that women will never fly, because they lack nerve. But that isn't true. Women have got the nerve. We're far nervier than men—in a good cause.

"But women won't juggle their lives recklessly as men do, just for the pure sport of it. The reason is that life is much more persistent in women than in men. They are the mothers of life. It is their most deep-rooted instinct to guard their own lives, in order that life itself, in the soul of little babies, may be preserved.

"And so they will never face the fatal game of flying!"

"Fatal?" I asked. "Do you expect, then, that some day you will end as they all do?

"Yes," Miss Hornsby acknowledged simply, with a sky smile, I expect I will.

"But not for a while," she added. "And I'd rather end that way than—get run over by a truck in a city street!

"So far, my only accident with an aeroplane occured when I was outside it, safe on the ground! I ran into it, head first! But in the air I always watch what I'm doing and keep cool. The pilot who does that, and knows his motor, need fear no catastrophe.

"But most women know nothing at all about motors, and that's another reason they will never become flyers. They have no mechanical ability, and they simply will not get themselves dirty and greasy and bruised in working over a motor.

"You see, they can't get interested enough in a lifeless creation of wood and metal to sacrifice themselves for it, as men do with enthusiasm. Women will only love and sacrifice themselves for a body that is warm with life and quick with human emotion.

"Nature has give the spark of eternal life especially into their charge, and they feel the responsibility so deeply that they will never be willing to toss that life recklessly up into the air and risk it daily, as I do and as all birdmen must."

The Automobile on Boys' Day

Arthur Zimmerman a young lad residing on Columbia avenue, has sent the following verses to Manager Williams. Arthur is especially invited to BOYS' DAY, and while he may not be so fortunate as to win the Automobile, he will find a little gift awaiting him engraved with his monogram:

BOYS' DAY is fast approaching,
We greet it with a cheer
The best day of vacation!
The finest of the year.

We hope for ideal weather,
No signs of rain or hail,
So we can march in the big parade
And follow the Copper Trail.

Each night as I pass with my papers,
In the Packard window I find
The little red Automobile.
Its engraven deep on my mind.

The little red Auto so splendid,
The desire of each boy in Fort Wayne,
So here's to the lucky fellow
My hopes I [illegible].

WANTS NEW IMPEACHMENT LAW.

Governor Ralston Favors More Rigorous Statute.

Indianapolis, July 13.—Governor Ralston, in the interest of law enforcement, will ask the next general assembly to enact a new impeachment law.

He considers the present law difficult of operation. He would strengthen it to make it easier to dispossess a public official if guilty of an impeachable offense. He believes a new impeachment statute would make a law providing for the recall of officials unnecessary. The governor said:

"A public official who forgets his oath and neglects his duty should be removed and I favor changes in the impeachment law to make possible his dismissal."

LITTLE CATHERINE WALLACE MAKES PETS OF WILD ANIMALS.

Now comes little Miss Catherine Wallace, aged four years, "a child of the sawdust ring"—her mother, Mrs. Rose Wallace, is wardrobe mistress for the Barnum and Bailey circus, which exhibits here Saturday, July 18th, and throws a bomb into the camp of little girls who think they are in the seventh heaven of delight when they are cuddling their dollies or stroking the silky fur of their kittens.

Little Miss Wallace says that the average girl does not know what a real houtest-to-goodness pet is. She turns up her little nose in disdain at the thought of playing with dolls, or even with kitten and dogs.

She is partial to wild animals for pets, and will stroke the ear of a lion with the same kindness and love that other little girls show in putting their dolls to bed. They all know and love her, and if she pets the lion too much the leopard and the tiger get jealous. The little girl's fun with her wild pets is strictly a personal and private matter, and she detests intruders. Right now her "family" consists of a baby lion, a baby tiger and a baby leopard. None of the animals are more than a few months' old and they scamper and play around with the little girl and are the best of friends—as long as she treats them all alike. The little girl is not loth to pose for her picture. She gathers her pets about her and grins happily.

"My pets are better than dolls," she lisps. "I'd rather play with my lion and my tiger and my leopard than to play with dolls and kittens. They can almost talk to me. We have lots of fun, a heap more than I could have with dolls."

The menagerie with the circus this year is larger than ever and many notable additions have been made. A baby giraffe, born last March, is the stellar offering. The circus, itself, comes in an entire new dress and with a world of new features. A new spectacle, "The Wizard Prince of Arabia," in which over 1,000 persons take part, including a big ballet, is only one of the new things promised. There will be a parade show day morning.

PICNICS ATTRACT LARGE THRONGS

Annual Affair of the Moose Lodge Was in Form of Children's Day.

The various picnics of secret orders and other organizations held at the various parks of Fort Wayne Sunday attracted large crowds who were hunting relief from the intense heat and also for a place of enjoyment. Among the best attended annual affairs were those of the Moose lodge held at Swinney park, which was in the form of a Children's day program; the Buffaloes picnic given at Centlivre park, and the Workman's picnic, held at Germania park.

The picnic at Swinney park by the Loyal Order of Moose, No. 200, was one of the best the order has ever given and all afternoon crowds passed to and from the park and witnessed the athletic events of the day. Prizes were won by the following:

50-yard dash—First prize, Miss Creigh; second prize, Miss Haslup; third prize, Miss Lampke, (for girls over fourteen years of age.)

50-yard dash for boys under fifteen—First prize, V. Brophy; second prize, Louis Laurns; third prize, J. Brophy.

Sack race—First prize, V. Brophy; second prize, G. Breman; third prize, R. Gunkel.

Potato race—First prize, C. Wahls; second prize, Miss Henigan; third prize, Miss Gunkel.

Bean race—First prize, Mrs. Gunkel; second prize, Mrs. Schlaudroff; third prize, Mrs. Bleigan.

Over half a thousand Buffaloes were present at the picnic given by the order at Centlivre park Sunday afternoon and with their families enjoyed one of the best picnics ever given. Lunch and refreshments were served during the day and one of the special features was the base ball game between the East end and West end Buffaloes. The score keeper could not count all the runs, so neither side was able to claim a victory.

Over 1,500 people attended the picnic given by the Workmen's Sick and Death Benefit association at Germania park. The receipts were large and this money will be added to the sick and death benefit fund. Only a few numbers of the program of athletic events were given on account of the extreme heat.

Another picnic of the day was that of the Waffengenossen society, held at Ahlersmeyer's grove, south of the city. Automobiles were provided to convey the visitors from the end of the Pontiac street car line to the grounds, where a most enjoyable time was had.

Actress Now Writes Play for Maude Adams

Constance Collier

New York, July 10.—Although the public knows her only as an actress, Miss Constance Collier, leading woman in "Thais" and other plays of Oriental flavor, is also a successful dramatist. In collaboration with Edward Sheldon she has made a dramatization of "Alice in Wonderland." Maude Adams is to play the role of the inquisitive Alice.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Thavius band and grand opera singers will be the attraction at the Majestic theater on Thursday and Friday. This booking is made possible by the moving of this splendid musical organization from Chicago to Cincinnati, where they will play the balance of the season.

There will be four concerts, one each afternoon at 2:15 and each evening at 8:15. The first evening the opera "Il Trovatore" will be given and on the second evening "Carmen" will be the attraction. These operas will be given with the band accompaniment in costume and with scenery, without chorus, as given at Ravinia park, Chicago, Cincinnati and others cities.

Fashion Fads.

The newest skirts are short and "slitless."

A white "wescut" is the corret thing with a tailored suit just now.

The military cape is popular. It's invariably lined with startling stripes or checks.

The Paris shops are showing handbags, purses and card cases made of plaid ribbons.

The hip yoke on some of the new skirts is a marked feature. This yoke is not tight. It really suggests the same line given by the rather loose hip girdle. But it does serve to hold in the fullness of the skirt at the waist line and it is quite satisfactory.

A feature of the new gowns is the jacket having a ripple hanging full from about the middle of the back between the shoulders.

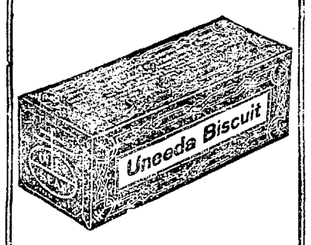

The vogue for bordered effects has resulted in the production of an exceedingly clever double-bordered veil. This novelty has a different pattern on each edge of the veiling so that it can be made to serve the purpose of entirely two different bordered veils. Sometimes a narrow floral border will appear on one edge and a velvet or chenille-dotted border on the other.

A great many buttons in mother-of-pearl, crystal, amber and tortoise-shell are now being worn.

The summer days are here. Take good care of your ice box. Keep it clean and sweet all the time. A good way to do this is to wash it, say, once a week with boiling hot water containing a little soda. Also be careful to keep it free from stale and decaying foods of every kind. Scrupulous cleanliness is the only way to avoid the danger of ptomaine poisoning and even the lesser intestinal disorders that are caused by eating soured, stale and partially decayed foods.

The vacation season is here, so be careful. Yes, we mean just that, be careful! The summer resort dangers are many and should be avoided. Two very important matters to be looked into are flies and the water supply. The summer resort keeper whose houses or cottages are not well screened and who does not keep the flies out of his kitchen and dining room is not a safe person to patronize. Shallow wells in close proximity to out-door toilets are also dangerous.

A good many of the small lakes at summer resorts are polluted by surface drainage and seepage from privy vaults and in this way the water from shallow wells near such lakes is dangerous and should not be used unless boiled or treated chemically to make it safe. Here is an easy way to treat water that you suspect of being contaminated with sewerage or surface drainage filth: Take a level teaspoonful of chloride of lime and dissolve thoroughly in a common coffee cup of water. Then pour into a suitable receptacle and dilute with three cupfuls of water. A single teaspoonful of this dilution will purify two gallons of water. This will give between four and five parts of free chlorin to a million parts of water and will destroy in ten minutes all typhoid, cholera or any of the dysentery germs. The water thus treated will be free from taste or odor and if put into clean stoppered bottles can be kept always ready for use.

Have you ever taken thought of the far-reaching influence of good sanitary laws when they are properly enforced? Take, for example, epidemics of the dangerous communicable diseases; the laws regulating these are above all other laws in scope and authority, because they are intended for the protection of human lives. But aside from unusual or emergency conditions, sanitary laws do a great many things. They help to give us better foods by compelling care and cleanliness on the part of those who prepare, handle or serve foods of every kind. Under the enforcement of such laws, restaurants and hotels must have clean kitchens; preservers of foods must maintain a high standard of cleanliness and keep them free from chemical preservatives or dangerous adulterants of every kind. Garbage and other dangerous wastes must be properly disposed of. Water must be kept pure and safe and foodstuffs must be carefully screened from flies. Common drinking cups and dangerous roller towels abolished and neighborhood or community nuisances of every kind that affect the public health regulated and controlled.

So, it is easy to see that sanitary laws are indispensable for community good and safety. And in order to get the greatest amount of benefit from them, we all should lend our best support to their enforcement and be ready to obey them all the time.

One assumes that she loves her daughter, and that is the most important of all. With proper work and recreation and an interest in some unfortunate, and regular rules, and with love, it is the exceptional girl who goes wrong."

LOVE PIRATE BREAKS WOMAN'S HEART AND LEAVES TRAIL OF BAD CHECKS.

BERTHA KEATS HAMILTON.

Oakland Cal., July 8.—Frederick Keats Hamilton, love pirate and forger who claims to be heir to a $2,000,000 fortune is the center of a mystery that involves two brides, a divorced wife, another wooed maiden and many cipher telegrams.

Recently Hamilton married Bertha Arlett of San Diego, Cal., and after living with her about a month eloped with Mrs. "Johnnie" Mae Dunbar, a rich widow, whom he married at Stockton, Cal. The couple is now thought to be enroute for New York state from which Hamilton cannot be extradited except on a felony charge. He has sent back a couple of cipher telegrams to Mrs. J. M. Kinsley, sister of his latest bride. These are the only olew the police have.

Investigation of Hamilton's career shows him to be a heartbreaker by profession. Here is his record:

He has a divorced wife in Oakland previously unheard of.

He visited matrimonial agencies after his purported California marriage on May 26, and secured the names of women to court.

He wooed Miss Aura Miller in whirlwind fashion.

He met the wife whom he married at Stockton through a marriage bureau. She was Mrs. "Johnnie" Mae Dunbar, temporarily of Oakland, said to be a San Diego widow.

He created a story of his being heir to a fortune and the son of a physician knighted in England before he settled in Boston.

He issued checks which are declared worthless, including that with which he paid the first fee to the bureau through whom he met Mrs. Dunbar.

Mrs. Bertha Hamilton, the love pirate's first wife, refuses to issue a warrant for his arrest and says that she will write the story of her matrimonial ventures for the movies.

BIG FIGHT OVER SALOON LICENSE

Jackson Township May Go Dry Tuesday by Remonstrance Route.

Everything is set for the hearing in the commissioners' court Tuesday of the remonstrance against the granting of a saloon license to Clarence Roy, of Edgerton, against a renewal of whose permit voters of the township are making war. A blanket remonstrance has been filed, the issues are all made up and the commissioners will let the two sides "go to it" Tuesday. Roy has the only saloon in Jackson township and it is situated on the Indiana side of the state line. Much complaint has been made of the way the place is conducted and the anti-saloon forces of the township met his application for a license with a remonstrance last week. The license under which Roy has been operating expires Tuesday, July 14, and to that date the commissioners adjourned the hearing. If Roy loses out he will have to close his saloon immediately. A lively fight is looked for at the hearing.

BOARD WILL ASK FOR MORE FUNDS

Needs $30,000 for Street Intersection and Other Accounts.

Mayor Hosey, Messrs. Singrey, Kelly and Hilgeman, of the board of works, and City Engineer Randall went into conference with City Comptroller W. C. Baade Monday afternoon to discuss the appropriation of about $30,000 from the general fund to the street intersection, street and sewer maintenance and repair and other funds. It was hoped to arrive at an agreement so that the request of the comptroller and the proper ordinances might be prepared in time to submit to the regular meeting of the city council Tuesday evening.

The board and city engineer Monday morning carefully went over those streets for which pavement is demanded and thirteen of those for which the city was most imperatively under obligation to allow pavements. The street intersections on these thoroughfares will cost the city $24,300. There now remains in the street intersection fund $8,800 of the $20,000 appropriated early in the year to take care of a deficit of the old board and carry on work for which contracts were let at the end of last year. This leaves $15,500 to be appropriated to the street intersection account. If this money is obtained it will make, with the $30,000 appropriated in 1913 for this year and already expended, the $20,000 appropriated this eary and the $2,500 recently appropriated for paving inspection, heretofore paid out of the intersection fund, a total of $52,500 appropriated for paving account in 1914. And this does not cover all the board needs to do the work for which there is a demand.

Besides the intersection account appropriation, the board wants $5,000 appropriated to the sewer maintenance and repair account, $5,000 to the street maintenance and repair account, $1,000 to the account of advertising and printing made necessary by the increased paving program, $1,000 to the city hall account and possibly $560 to purchase a runabout for the building inspection department. This last item may be withdrawn.

In addition to these appropriations the board of works will shortly ask for an appropriation of $15,000 to purchase the Rabus property adjoining the city hall property on the east for offices and storerooms for the city light and power department.

The streets selected by the board for pavement are Hayden, Wayne Trace, St. Marys, Putnam, Grant avenue and the Wayne street intersection, Caroline, Webster, Maumee, Oneida, Lake, Murray, Fifth, Crescent and Superior.

Before the conference it was understood Comptroller Baade was willing to sanction an appropriation of $5,000 to the street intersection account, but no more.

MAY FIGHT DOUBLE TRACK.

Property Owners Oppose Franchise from Creighton to Pontiac.

Property owners on Calhoun street from Creighton avenue to Pontiac street will oppose the granting to the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company of a franchise for a double track on Calhoun street between the two cross streets named. The franchise was scheduled to come up for action before the board of public works Monday afternoon and it was expected that the board would grant it. The franchise must go to the city council for approval and the opinion of the members of the board was that the remonstrance should be considered there instead of by the board in order that the council, as direct representatives of the people, might have an opportunity to pass upon the matter.

The objecting property owners take the position that the part of Calhoun street over which it is proposed to lay a double track was but recently paved and that they were assessed for paving on a part of the street the traction company now wants to occupy. They would like to be reimbursed. Another objection is that Calhoun street south of Creighton avenue is narrower than north of Creighton, and a double track will greatly constrict the driveways on either side of the tracks. There is apprehension that sooner or later an effort will be made to widen the street.

LIGHT TOWER FOR LAWTON PARK.

Acting on the suggestion of Mayor Hosey, the board of works and the board of park commissioners have agreed to remove the electric light tower that for many years has been established on the grounds of the Harmer school to Lawton park. The two boards will equally divide the cost of making the change which will be effected at once. Bids for the work were to be received by the park board Monday afternoon, and the contract for taking down, removing and reerecting the tower was awarded to the Indiana Engineering and Construction company for $400. The engineering company's bid was $430. Similar towers have been placed in Swinney and Reservoir parks.

MAY GET MOTOR FIRE ENGINES.

Following the demonstration at the burning of the Pfeiffer hardware store on Columbia street a week ago that three of the fire engines in use by the city are seriously defective, the board of safety is considering the advisability of replacing them with motor-driven engines of a type yet to be decided upon. The engines of companies 4, 5 and 6, purchased in 1893, failed to stand up well under the severe test of the Pfeiffer fire and are now undergoing repairs. Mayor Hosey and the board of safety favor the substitution of motor-driven apparatus throughout the fire department as rapidly as the city can afford to install it. The matter may be submitted to the city council shortly.

GETS REWARD, ANYWAY.

Bystanders Recognize Effort of Plucky Lad at Park.

A lad by the name of Bowman received five dollars Sunday afternoon at the Children's day celebration by the Moose at Swinney park for his daring in crawling up a tree after a toy parachute which was dropped from a balloon which made an ascension. The parachute contained several prizes and the person who caught it was to keep them but the lad received a better prize than the parachute contained.

No one had a chance to catch it for when it fell it caught in a large tree in the park and remained there until young Bowman crawled the tree after it. After a hard climb he reached the parachute and dropped it, but when he reached the ground again all the prizes had been grabbed by children and all that was left him as a reward for his efforts was a stick of chewing gum.

To repay him for his work of skill and bravery, some gentlemen nearby made up a purse of five dollars and presented it to him.

As jolly a company as one could find was the number of girls who spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Flora Roehm in honor of Miss Olga Baade, of Cincinnati, who is visiting in the city. There was music by Miss Clara Homeyer, games and supper of an especially tempting kind that all contributed to the good time enjoyed by Misses Ella Bartles, Olga Baade, Clara Homeyer, Gertrude Gale, Lona Holle, Clara Anweiler, Helen Thiele and Clara Roehm.

Bumper Crops for 1914, Says Darling

Albert J. Earling

Milwaukee, Wis., July .—"Prosperity is on the way," announces A. J. Earling, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, who has just returned from a tour of northwestern wheat fields. "The northwest will yield a bumper crop this year" is Earling's prediction, "and good crops means more demand for labor and business prosperity generally."

HOME NEWSPAPER

When a man is through with his day's work and is sitting down resting in his home, he can not read the advertisements on the fence, and the hand bills and circulars that were left on the door step during the day have blown away or been destroyed. He calls for the paper and there finds the merchant's announcement, and with nothing to bother his mind he reads it carefully and calls his wife's attention to it, and they decide to go to the merchant's store and examine what is advertised.

HAS A PRISON RECORD.

From the national bureau of identification in Washington the Fort Wayne police have received information that the man arrested here for assault and battery and giving his name as Walter McCormick is Wadislaus Najorski and that he was sent up from Buffalo, N. Y., in 1906, for highway robbery, serving a term in Auburn prison. Suspicion that the man is a crook was aroused by the fact that a freshly healed gunshot wound was found in his breast after he was arrested here. McCormick went into the Pennsylvania roundhouse and beat up John Dohrman, blamed for the loss of his job. When in custody of the officers at the home of Detective Sergeant W. F. Pappert on John street awaiting the arrival of the police wagon McCormick broke out of the door and ran to Gay street, where he was headed off by the patrol auto. He refused to stop even when shots were fired over his head.

HIT-AND-RUN IS STRONGEST PLAY

Jones is Specialist and He Came Near Beating Local Crew.

Manager James Jones, native and taxpayer of London, Ky., manager of the Grand Rapids team, and head of an interesting family, is a specialist.

He has abiding faith in the hit and run play and in his ability to deliver the hit for the other fellow to do the running and his confidence and ability came mighty near spilling the beans in an 8 to 7 sun baked contest at the Calhoun street enclosure Sunday in which the home talent figured on the eight end.

In a frantic attempt to stop a ninth inning rush, Bill Cramer had most throttled the enemy with two gone and two strikes and no ball on the manager. Cramer suspected that something was brewing so he tried to waste the next ball he pitched, or rather he tried to get it just enough outside for the champ's new chief to go after it. And he did.

Jones let it be known that he was going after the next one and he hit it to middle field and Grimes had such a good start that although the ball was fielded rapidly, the tally went over and was the run that pulled the enemy up to within one of a tie.

Baseball had no charm for fandom yesterday and nothing short of a battle to decide the championship would have wooed them away from the shade of the family tree and the sundry cooling drinks that were what country correspondents term "the order of the day." For a Sabbath without rain to keep down the attendance, the gate was the smallest Fort Wayne has ever had in the history of the Central league.

Francis M. Atkins was unblanketed for the Sabbath fray and his pards put him on Easy street with a three-run jump on the champs but he went bad in the second and three healthy swats and an upset by Bill Thompson in which he spilled Harry Martin at the plate, put the enemy on even terms.

The going got a bit heavy for the former Athletic in the third and Grover Cleveland Young, who had been chased in the Saturday combat, was called by wireless from the vicinity of the club house, where he had been intermittently warming up for some time. This warming up business is strictly a baseball term and this explanation is made because no really sane person could possibly understand why a pitcher had to warm up yesterday.

Young endured until the opening half of the ninth round, when the game promised to go to overtime, and with one gone and a couple on the bases, Cramer was signaled and got into the running. He managed to pull through but it was tough sailing to save the game, which went to the winning column of Young.

McLafferty featured the game with some spectacular work. In the first inning he went to the overflow bleachers—almost—and picked off a foul fly. In the fourth, with two strikes on him, he tried to duck a bad ball, it tipped his bat and the catcher got it and put him out.

In the eighth he came thundering toward the plate on Holderman's infield tap and spied Lincoln Castle, the opposing backstop, waiting for him with the ball in his extended hand. He jumped over the ball and registered what proved to be the winning run.

Elmer Ponder remained in the box during the whole game because the new manager had nobody to take his place. Thomas had worked through nine innings on Friday. Cleon Webb did the same sort of stunt Saturday and Paynter was being saved for the openin ggame at home today.

The ground conditions were responsible for the extra base hits. The outfielders camped right in front of most of the bingles tha went down for doubles but the ground was baked and the ball hopped right and left and it was impossible for them to gauge it properly.

EVANSVILLE HAS SOME REAL FANS

Used to Heat Down There and Four Thousand Attend a Game.

Larry Quinlan dragged his limp bunch of Hottentot athletes into Fort Wayne from Evansville early Monday morning after sixteen innings of Sabbath baseball in a temperature that the manager swears was 112 degrees and in this statement he is backed up by the entire team.

All good teams stick to the manager and when he makes a statement they boost for him. Ball players say that Evansville is the hottest place this side of the place that the churchmen are battling against and there is good reason to believe that Quinlan was right or nearly so in the statement.

However, Evansville fans to the number of 4,000 turned out to see the games. There was a time a few years ago when Fort Wayne could poke fun at Evansville folk and say it was a rotten ball town, but the day is gone unless local fandom gets a move on it. Evansville was in last place a year ago and drawing to beat the cars.

* * *

Among the baseball assets Manager Quinlan has one new outfielder by the name of Spear. Yes, of course, anybody could do it but puns are gone out of style and thus it is wise to refrain from any reference to the fact that he may spear 'em in the outer garden.

This Spear looks good, according to Larry, and he says he was once in the Central league as a member of the South Bend club. Terre Haute secured him from the Henderson team of the Kitty league.

* * *

Also Mr. Quinlan has a couple of new pitchers to put on exhibition in this thriving city. They are Nehf and Witte, who have joined the club since it was here on its last trip. Leonard Madden is at his home in Toledo, O., nursing a broken finger he sustained in Grand Rapids, but Tom Cantwell and Walter Miller are both doing good service under the conditions.

* * *

Manager Harry Martin is firm in his belief that if he could work Grover Young every fourth day he would win more games. He is prompted to believe this by the fact that a five-day layoff causes the pitcher to lose control, which is an essential.

Young was routed Saturday afternoon and it was all because he could not get the ball over until he got in the hole, and when he did somebody just cracked it and he was derricked.

No pitcher in the Central league has a better stock in trade than Young and this season finds him a little short of control unless he has plenty of work.

* * *

Freddie Streeter came through during the Grand Rapids series with a brand of hitting that was extremely encouraging. In the parlance of the game he "can go get 'em," meaning that he can cover the ground, but until the present stay at home he has not shown much batting strength.

"Red" Smith also is doing some good work with his bludgeon. He came through yesterday with three hits in five trips to the plate. He has been meeting the ball squarely for some time but has been unlucky in driving it right at a fielder.

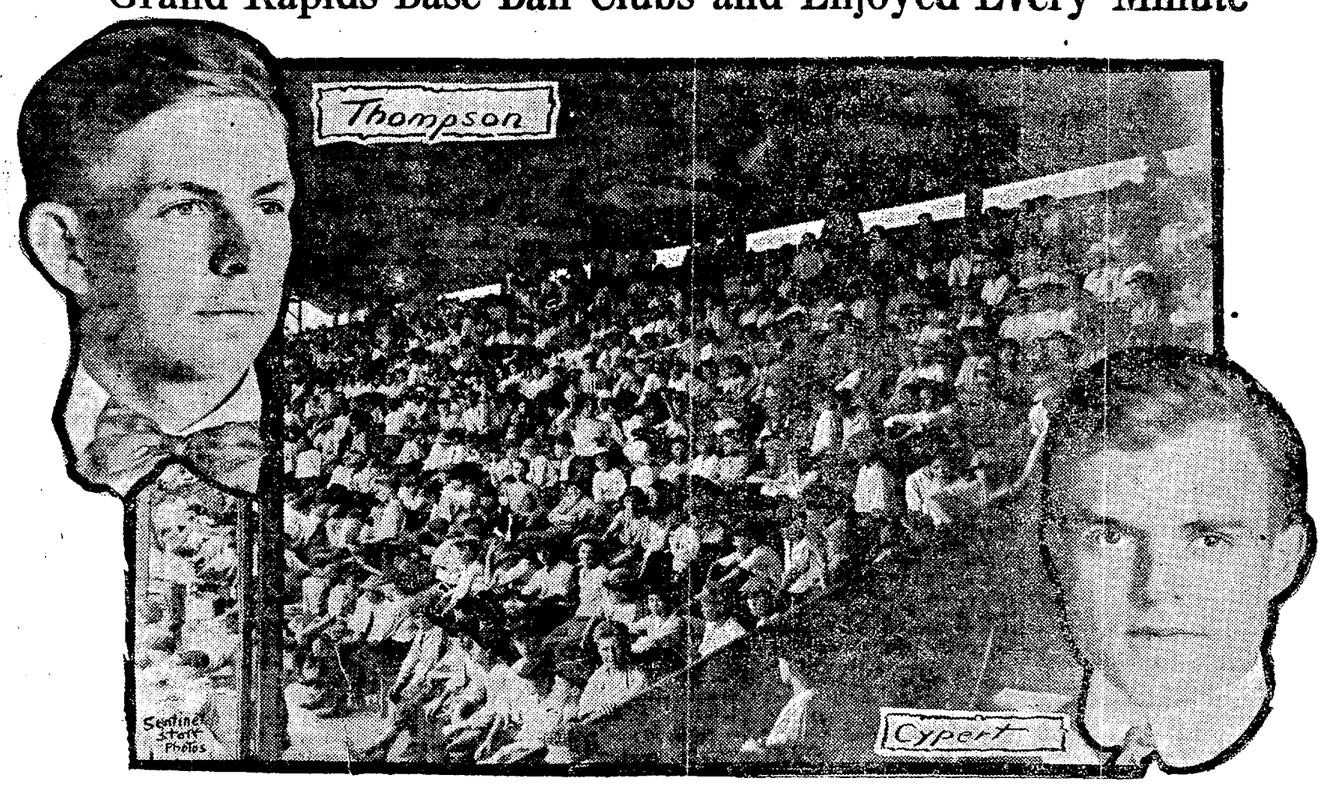

* * *

Rain this morning was welcomed by Jack Raidy and all of the ball players. The ground down in the park is as hard as concrete and aside from being hard on the legs of the athletes it makes it difficult to judge ground balls.

These Boys Munched Peanuts as Guests of the Fort Wayne and Grand Rapids Base Ball Clubs and Enjoyed Every Minute

More than a thousand boys were guests Saturday afternoon of Owner Claude Varnell and William E. Essick, of the Fort Wayne and Grand Rapids ball teams respectively, and Bert Dennis and four or five policemen had a task on hand keeping the youngsters within bound. They ate peanuts given by the management, washed them down with cold drinks, rooted for the home team, jeered at the visitors, and had one section of the grandstand all to themselves.

WEAK HEARTS IN BASE BALL GAME

Some of the Athletes Are Troubled and Take Long Chances.

Most ball players are husky, powerful fellows. But occasionaly one gets in who lacks the physical endurance of his mates. He has to run along a lot on his nerve.

Such a fellow is Roxie Middleton, the little outfielder of Oakland. Last season Roxie was the battling sensation of the Western league. Many times the remark was made that if Middleton had a strong heart he would have been a star in the majors years ago.

Middleton is troubled with his heart, according to his friends. He seldom played at Denver when with the Western league because of the high altitude there. But finally when some person came across with a remark that Roxie was afraid to appear before the Grizzly fans and he heard it the lad was furious.

Against the advise of everyone he insisted on playing there the next time his club invaded the Colorado capital and ran bases recklessly, taking all sorts of chances.

Another fellow who is said to be affected in much the same manner is Jimmie Murray, recently purchased by the Boston Beans from the International league. Jimmie is a clever outfielder and a good hitter. He had a trial some years ago with the Browns and failed to make good. But this isn't remarkable, for few have been able to make good there.

Occasionally Jimmie is taken with fainting spells. He has been known to circle the bases on a home run. Then, when he came up the next time and the excitement had passed, he dropped in a dead faint at the plate.

The remarkable feature about Murray is that, in spite of his heart, he is a wonderful swimmer. Folks usually believe that it takes a man with a stout heart to make headway against the waves, but Jimmie is the exception. In the winter months he acts as a life saver at Ormond Beach, Fla.

IF

If the rain prevented a game this afternoon there will be two for one admission fee on Tuesday afternoon, the first starting promptly at 2 o'clock. This was agreed upon by the Fort Wayne and Terre Haute managers at noon.

However, the ground at League park dries quickly and there was every probability when the agreement was made the Monday game would be played.

OLD CENTRAL LEAGUER IS COMING AGAIN

FORMERLY IN CENTRAL.

Dick Bayless formerly was in the Central league and played with the Dayton club after Louis Heilbroner, president of the Central league, and at that time scout for the Cincinnati team, had picked him out of the bushes.

He could not stick with the Reds and went to Atlanta and played all over the Southern league before he finally found himself and bloomed out as a real ball player.

Venice, Cal., July 13.—In placing the Venice Tigers in the van of the Pacific Coast baseball league pennant race no member of the club has done more than Dicky Bayless, the mighty swatsman hitter who holds down right field for Hap Hogan.

"FIFTY PER CENT" DICKY BAYLESS.

Bayless is known among the fans as "Fifty Per Cent Dick" because he is credited with half of the Venice team's success.

This year marks the last appearance of this clever outfielder on the coast. He is on the ice for the Chicago White Sox, with delivery arranged for at the end of the season.

Charley Comiskey, of the Chicago club, would like to have Bayless at once but Hogan is after the coast league penant, and knows that to let Dickey go now would end the Tigers' chances of winning.

The White Soxs' option on Bayless resulted from Doc White being turned over to the Tigers, Bayless being the man wanted by the Windy City club. Comiskey is especially hot after hard-hitting outfielders.

Bayless' enviable record has been mounting steadily ever since he came to the coast a few years ago. Manager Hogan secured him from the Southern league and he has been holding down an outfield job for Venice since that time.

Apparently Bayless is improving all the time. Last year he led the Coast league stickers with a batting average of .324. He clouted out 220 bases during the season and stole twenty-eight. He is a natural slugger, and had 10 home runs, 15 triples and 28 doubles to his credit in 1913.

Batting in great form this year, he again promises to lead the Coast league.

DUCKING A PREACHER—HE WAS A FRIEND OF THE SUFFRAGETTES.

PHOTOGRAPH SHOWS LONDON MOB DUCKING THE REV. C. A. WILLS IN A PARK POND, WHILE LLOYD-GEORGE WAS MAKING A SPEECH A NUMBER OF MILITANT SUFFRAGETS INTERRUPTED HIM. THE REV. WILLS WAS WITH THE WOMEN AND DEFENDED THEM. THE CROWD RUSHED THE WOMEN, BUT THEY TOOK THE CLERGYMAN AND DUCKED HIM REPEATEDLY IN THE POND. HE WAS HALF-DROWNED WHEN THE POLICE RESCUED HIM.

STREET MASHER GETS HARD JOLT

Clarence DeVaux Draws $30 and Twenty-five Days in Jail.

Judge Kerr indicated in the city court Monday morning what he thinks of the genus street masher when he fined Clarence DeVaux $25 and costs and hung on twenty-five days in jail as a guarantee of good faith. DeVaux was prosecuted under a city ordinance of 1912 in which it was designed to get at that degenerate class that annoys and insults women on the streets. He was identified by Mrs. Emil Koeppel who, with her mother, Mrs. Bowman, was passing the Elks temple, Berry street and Maiden lane, when he stepped in front of her and claimed acquaintance. After looking at the man, Mrs. Koeppel told him he must be mistaken, but the fellow persisted and took her by the arm, saying, "Come on with me." Mrs. Koeppel and her mother hastened away, but the man followed, and they stepped into a yard and claimed protection. They were escorted to their home by a gentleman and his wife and there the story was related to Mr. Koeppel. Mr. and Mrs. Koeppel went down on Calhoun street, notified Officer Wilmoth of the affair and shortly DeVaux was identified as the man. He was waiting at the front of a 10-cent store for a lady, according to his testimony in the city court. He was placed under arrest. In his pocket was found a half-pint bottle of whisky. DeVaux pleaded not guilty and entered a general denial in court, where he was represented by two attorneys. Mrs. Koeppel and Mrs. Bowman identified him in the most positive manner. In inflicting the penalty Judge Kerr said it was a plain case of street "mashing," that DeVaux's guilt was beyond question and that such cases would always be severely dealt with in his court. DeVaux's attorneys appealed the case and furnished bond in the sum of $250.

Careless Driver Pays a Fine.

On his plea of guilty to a charge of leaving a horse untied in the street Judge Kerr fined Louis Solomon $10 and costs and warned him that he was fortunate his carelessness had not resulted in a shocking tragedy. Solomon left a team he had hired from the Meyer livery stables standing loose at the corner of Jefferson and Calhoun streets about 5 o'clock Sunday evening, while he stepped into a cigar store. The team took fright and dashed in a wild race north on Calhoun street, causing a panic in the big crowd that was massed on the west side of the thoroughfare north of Main to board Robison park cars. Everybody got out of the way but Michael G. Botzler, 735 East Washington street, who was knocked down and bruised, but not seriously hurt. Mr. Botzler had pushed his wife out of the way, but did not have time himself to escape. The team ran to the commons till to Clinton street and then ran north of the ball park, crossed the rough south to Montgomery, where they were stopped. Half a dozen motorcycles and two automobiles joined in pursuit of the runaway team. Solomon, who is proprietor of a fish market, said that he only left his team "for a second," but offered nothing else in mitigation and paid his fine. Scores of persons were in peril from the runaway.

Over a Card Game.

William Archer was fined $1 and costs on his plea of guilty to a charge of assault and battery on Floyd R. Wolf. The men are employes at the Electric works and during the noon hour were two in a four-handed game of euchre. A dispute arose as to the count. Archer called Wolf a liar. Wolf wished it back on Archer. Archer landed three stiff ones on Wolf's mouth, badly cutting his lips and jolting four teeth loose. Archer admitted in court he had been a bit hasty.

Have Plenty on Ball.

Thomas Ball, an Englishman, was slated for drunkenness. He was arrested on Clinton street Saturday night by Detective Sergeant Peter Junk for attempting to assault August Laezure, an aged man. In court Ball was identified by the landlady of a Harrison street rooming house as one of her lodgers who had sneaked into the house, gathered up his clothing and sneaked out again. Ball said he had only got his coat and meant to go back. He had his wardrobe with him when arrested and it was in police headquarters while he testtified. The case was continued until Tuesday.

Negro Assaults Colored Lady.

Dan Tolliver, a very black man negro, was fined $10 and costs for assaulting Mrs. Florence Williams, 1229 Hayden street, a light-complexioned colored lady. Mrs. Williams went into her back yard shortly after midnight and Tolliver grabbed her and tried to drag her across the alley to a stable where he lodges. After having her gown almost stripped from her the woman got away and notified the police. Motorcycle Officer Charles Eisenhut found Tolliver asleep in the stable. The negro made a strong argument that it was a case of mistaken identity, but there was no doubt and he went over.

Other City Court Cases.

Edward Hayes, a drunk of the rat type, couldn't give any account of himself save that he was from Detroit, bought the whisky he was loaded with on Sunday in Richmond and had just sent his wife $75. He went over for fifteen days.

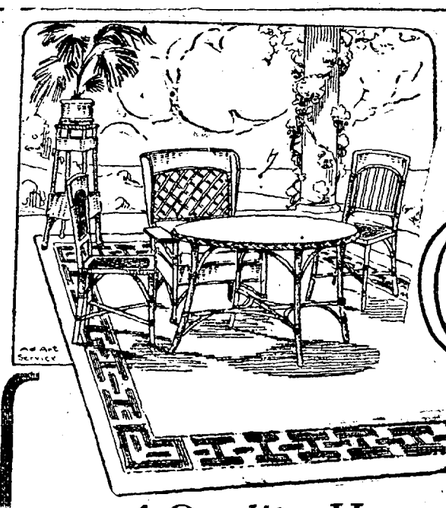

Pete Keegan and Joseph Mesta, two hoboes arrested by Special Officer Strasser of the Pennsylvania police service, were held until Tuesday under $50 bonds on charges of train climbing. They offered Officer Strasser $5 to let them go and are being investigated.

Wash Shirey and Arthur Cramer, drunks, got $1 and costs each and the

ENRAGED MAN USES A KNIFE

Ejected Passenger Sinks Blade in the Hip of Flagman O. C. Davis.

Orren C. Davis, of 1319 East Pontiac street, a passenger flagman on the Grand Rapids and Indiana, was cut in the right hip with a knife in the hand, of a man whose name was not learned Saturday night. The wound is about an inch long and over an inch deep and is painful, though not considered serious by Dr. E. J. McOscar, the attending surgeon. The stabbing followed the expulsion of a passenger from train No. 4 at a point a short distance south of Vicksburg because he refused to pay fare. Conductor Pat McGee and Flagman Davis put the man off and when Davis was in the act of getting aboard the last car, the fellow struck at him with a knife and the blade inflicted the wound in the hip. The fellow immediately took to his heels and escaped. Mr. Davis was able to remain on the train and come to this city. He will be unable to work for several days. No. 4 is a through passenger train, passing Fort Wayne at 1:20 in the morning.

TRAIN STRIKES RUSSIANS.

One Beheaded and Other Loses His Left Arm.

Dennis Seivochenski was beheaded and John Donenski had the flesh stripped from the outer part of his left arm Sunday afternoon when they were struck by southbound passenger train, No. 8, on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road in the southern part of Grand Rapids. The men are laborers and were engaged in construction work on the Michigan and Chicago electric road, living in a camp a short distance out from Grand Rapids. They were en route to that city when the accident happened. Neither the engineer nor the fireman saw the men and their fate was not discovered for a few minutes after the train had passed. Then some of the yard men discovered them and had the wounded one sent to the hospital and the dead turned over to the undertaker. The train which struck these men runs between Grand Rapids and Chicago, via Kalamazoo.

KILLED ON GARY BRIDGE.

Stanley Zeimba Struck by Pennsylvania Train.

The second section of westbound Pennsylvania train, No. 21, in charge of Conductor Thomas P. McArdle and Engineer Charles Larimore, struck Stanley Ziemba, aged ten, on the river bridge at Gary Saturday afternoon and injured him so badly that he died an hour later. With other lads Ziemba was fishing from the bridge and failed to notice the approaching train. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ziemba, who reside in Gary, near the scene of the accident.

SHOP CLERKS WON GAME.

A remarkable feature of the ball game at Weisser park Saturday afternoon, between teams from the testing room and the shop clerk's office at the Fort Wayne Electric works, was nine runs in the first inning by the shop clerks and none during the rest of the game. Those nine runs, however, decided the game, for the testing room boys were able to make only 5. Two of these were home runs made by George Blakesley. The batteries were Thomas and Rich for the testing room and Overwitte and Glenn for the shop clerks. The testing room boys and the employes in the second story of the factory will have a game at Lawton park Saturday afternoon.

CEMENT WORKERS ELECT OFFICERS.

Permanent organization of the Cement Workers has been effected with the following officers: O. V. Summers, president; L. L. House, vice president; George N. Groves, recording and corresponding secretary; Charles Houser, financial secretary; F. J. Hayes, treasurer; George Japp, marshal; C. Jackson, sergeant-at-arms; Calvin Eddington, chairman finance committee. The other officers and the committees will be appointed at the meeting at the Elite hall next Friday evening. The new union is No. 139.

INSPECTING TELEGRAPH TOWERS.

Division Operator H. B. Reynolds and Assistant Trainmaster E. M. Reese, of the Pennsylvania, left on the division special train at 12:40 this afternoon to inspect telegraph towers between this city and Crestline. Inspection is being made today on the line between this city and Lima. Tonight the party will run into Crestline, remain over night and tomorrow inspect the Crestline-Lima portion of the line. Supt. W. M. Wardrop and Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton accompanied Messrs. Reese and Reynolds as guests as far as Lima today.

OBJECT TO ELEVATION.

While railways in many cities are being compelled to elevate their tracks, the residents in the west end of Cleveland are strenuously opposing a movement of the city council to have the Nickel Plate tracks in that part of Cleveland elevated. Elimination of grade crossings would be multilation of the entire section of the city, argue the residents. It is said the railroad favors the elimination of the grade crossings in that section.

GETTING BUSY WITH EXCURSION.

The various business houses where Cedar Point excursion tickets are being sold for the Mutual Benefit association of the Fort Wayne Electric works report a good demand for them, though the excursion is nearly two weeks distant. In publishing the list of places where tickets are on sale Saturday the city papers omitted the name of Denner & Berghoff cigar and tobacco store on West Berry street. The excursion takes place on Saturday, July 25.

SWITCH AT NELSON'S CROSSING.

The Wabash will construct a switch at Nelson's crossing, three miles east of the city. It will be used for unloading stone for use in the construction of the Lincoln highway and for handling any other kind of freight in car load lots at that point. The siding will be 500 feet long and the maintenance of way department has been instructed to get the material on the ground at once for it.

SEVERED SOME VEINS.

William Green, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, had some veins cut this morning by broken glass. He was engaged in washing bottles, when one broke and the jagged edges punctured his wrist. He was attended at the dispensary by Dr. Fred Schulz.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Henry Bruggemann, stenographer at Electric works, is sick and off duty.

Boilermaker J. J. Monihan, of the Wabash shops, went to Attica, Ind., today to make some repairs on the steam shovel at the gravel pit.

Fred Speckman, a clerk in the Bass foundry office, resumed that duty this morning. He had been at Rome City a week.

The Todd & Paul Carnival company, which played at Argos last week, was moved yesterday to Knox, Ind., via the Nickel Plate route.

Carl Bartels has returned from a ten days' outing at Lake James and this morning resumed work in the shipping clerk's office at the Electric works.

Dr. J. Sion Smith is again looking after affairs at the Bass foundry yards after an absence of 10 days, a portion of which was spent in the country.

The first week-end excursion over the L. E. & W. to Cincinnati Sunday drew a crowd of 276 from Fort Wayne, which was more than expected because of very hot weather.

After a week spent on a farm near Thurman, Ind., Charles Peek is looking after clerical matters in the office of Master Mechanic J. J. Muir, of the Bass works again.

Gerald A. Leeper has returned from a two weeks sojourn at a lake in the northern part of the state. He resumed work in the Pennsylvania machine shop office this morning.

The twenty-second annual convention of the International Railroad Master Blacksmiths' association will be held on August 18, 19 and 20 at the Hotel Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

R. J. Fisher left at noon today on a business trip for the Bass Foundry and Machine company. He will visit Pittsburg, Columbus and Cincinnati and return home the latter part of the week.

Frank Zollars, foreman of the lathe department of the Pennsylvania machine shop, resumed that work this morning. He had been attending the funeral of his grandson at Napoleon, Ohio.

Machinist J. B. Palmer, of the Pennsylvania shops, who has been in poor health for some time, has obtained a three months' leave of absence and left today for Chicago. He may go out west.

H. Simons, a Pennsylvania yard engineer, who is also a carpenter, has taken a month's leave of absence to work at his trade. He will resume his work in the yards as soon as business revives.

General Foreman Hugh T. Hogan has returned from a two weeks' pleasure trip in the east and this morning resumed charge of affairs at the Pennsylvania machine shops. Mr. Hogan was accompanied on the trip by his son, Frank Hogan.

J. B. Sollitt, former special officer for many years on the Wabash, suffered a loss last Friday when fire broke out in his home. It was quickly extinguished, however. Mr. Sollitt is well known in Fort Wayne. He is now the chief of police of Peru.

Ed Harsh, Al Dininger, John M. Stephens and Harry Tiemann, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, and Benjamin Steinacker, of the blacksmith shop, are not a success as whortleberry pickers. Saturday they went nine miles north of Plymouth and spent the day in the marshes. Three quarts of inferior berries was the result.

PROTECTS EVANSVILLE BREWERS.

Governor Ralston Raises Point in Extradition Proceedings.

Indianapolis, July 13.—Governor Samuel M. Ralston, of Indiana, has refused to honor requisition papers from Governor Hooper, of Tennessee, for the extradition of seven officers of two Evansville, Ind., breweries who are wanted at Memphis on grand jury indictments, charging them with violation of the "four mile" state prohibition law.

Errors in filling out the documents was given as the cause for refusing to honor the requisition papers. Governor Ralston also cited court decisions tending to show that he would not honor the extradition of the men even if the papers were corrected. The governor held that it would be necessary to show that the men fled from Tennessee after committing a crime. It is understood the Tennessee officers desired to get the brewers to that state in order to prosecute the "higher-ups" outside of the state who have been sending liquor into the prohibition state.

THE MARKETS

POTATO MARKET IS STEADY.

Home Grown Supply Is Large but Quality Is Very Poor; Prices Unchanged.

The potato market is very steady according to a commission man who stated Monday that the home grown supply was arriving in large quantities but that the quality was exceedingly poor. The prices are remaining at the same place and no change is expected.

The farmers on the market Monday reported that the greatest portion of hay had been made and it was seldom that a field could be seen that the grass was still standing. The markets were small today, only ten loads of hay and grain being weighed by the city scalemaster.

All other prices remained practically the same, with the exception of the price on corn, which fell a few cents. It is predicted, however, that this price will ascend in a few days, as the outlook for oats for this year is not so bright. Rust has been destroying large fields of the grain, causing it to ripen quickly and not allowing the heads time enough to fill.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, July 13.—Prospects of the largest receipts of the season here and at Kansas City had a bearish effect today on wheat. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅛c lower to ⅛c advance, were followed by an all around decline.

The close was steady at ⅝c to ⅞c net decline.

Hot dry weather over most of the belt brought about a sharp rise in corn. After opening ⅛c to ⅞c up, the market scored yet additional gains.

Prices closed weak, ⅞c to 1@1⅛c net lower.

Oats proved weak, compared with corn. Prices bulged with the coarser grain but a fair increase of selling pressure led to a setback.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 13.—The new week brought little change to the stock market, the undertone again showing weakness in minor issues while investment shares held firm. Gould securities, Ontario and Western and Western Maryland were lower, but Missouri Pacific convertible 5s inclined towards improvement. Chesapeake and Ohio, one of the last week's heavy features, yielded another point, while New Haven advanced a point. In the special group there were such counter movements as a one point loss in U. S. rubber and a gain of as much for dry goods preferred.

The course of the market suggested that the bears were searching for weak spots in their efforts to depress the general list. Canadian Pacific, the most active stock, fell 3¾ points on combined selling by Canadian houses and the short interest. Baltimore and Ohio and Louisville and Nashville lost a point or more under similiar pressure, while New Haven was feverish, declining to its recent low level. Obscure stocks were temporarily neglected while the leaders, including Harriman's, Hills, Anthracite and Steel, were on firm ground. Bonds were heavy, with weakness in western Maryland and New York, Westchester and Boston 4½s the latter a New Haven subsidiary. These issues fell 3¾@5½ points respectively.

Selling of standard shares became more pronounced in the last hour under the lead of Canadian Pacific, which sold at its lowest price in four days. Declines elsewhere in this division ranged from one to two points, with a feeble rally at the end.

Liquidation of investment issues after temporary firmness was the feature of today's market. Canadian Pacific declined five points on heavy offerings. The closing was weak.

WOMAN ATTACKS LAY MONK.

Rasputin, Prominent Figure in Russia, May Not Survive.

St. Petersburg, Russia, July 13.—Details reached here today in a dispatch to the Courier of a probably fatal attack on the mystic lay monk, Gregory Rasputin, whose influence over the emperor is said to be very great. Rasputin, who has been one of the most prominent figures in Russia in recent years, was visiting his native village, Pokrovsky, in the province of Tobolsk, Siberia, when a woman, a stranger to the locality, approached him pretending to be a beggar. After accosting him she stabbed him in the abdomen with a long military dirk.

The assailant was arrested and confessed [illegible]

If you put a thousand dollar mortgage on your city home, you've no other way under the sun to pay it off except out of your wage earnings. If you put a thousand dollar mortgage on a suburban home that you buy from me, there's another way to pay it off. The proceeds from 450 laying hens will take care of a thousand dollar mortgage within one year. The proceeds from four cows will produce a thousand. Five brood sows will come across with a sufficient number of pigs for the market to pay off a thousand dollar mortgage within one year. Three acres in potatoes will produce twelve hundred bushels ordinary yield. Figure it up at 85c per bushel. Some day you'll wake up and get wise to what you ought to get your money into.

My tracts are all located at interurban station stops, from two acres up to ten, improved and unimproved.

Think it over and talk it over with me.

MERCILESS GRILL FOR NEW HAVEN ROAD DIRECTORS

COMMERCE BOARD OUT WITH SCATHING BLAST

Calls Financial Course Most Glaring Instance of Maladministration in American Railroading

DIRECTORS CRIMINALLY NEGLIGENT

Washington, July 13.—"One of the most glaring instances of maladministration revealed in all the history of American railroading" is the interstate commerce commission's characterization of its findings in the investigation of New Haven railroad financial affairs, reported today to the senate.

In a report of 30,000 words, probably the most drastic in terms of any ever made by the commission, the New Haven's directors were pronounced "criminally negligent."

Evidence pointing to be violations of law has been transmitted to district attorneys in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York and the federal department of justice.

Loss $60,000,000 to $90,000,000.

"A reasonable estimate of the loss to the New Haven by reason of waste and mismanagement," says the report, "will amount to between $60,000,000 and $90,000,000. Directors should be made individually liable to civil and criminal laws for the manner in which they discharge their trust."

All the commission's strictures were upon the management of the New Haven system under former President Mellen.

In justice to the present management the commission says it is but fair to say that Chairman Howard Elliott and Walker D. Hines, special counsel, "have co-operated with the commission and rendered it substantial assistance throughout this investigation."

Some "Significant Incidents."

Among the "marked features and significant incidents" in the loose extravagant and improvident administration of the finances of the New Haven as shown in this investigation are:

The Boston & Maine despoilment.

The inequality of the Westchester acquisition.

The double price paid for the Rhode Island trolleys.

The recklessness in the purchase of Connecticut and Massachusetts trolleys, prices exorbitantly in excess of their market value.

The unwarranted expenditure of large amounts in "educating public opinion."

The disposition without the knowledge of the directors of hundreds of thousands of dollars for influencing public sentiment.

The habitual payment of vouchers without any specification of details.

The confusing inter-relation of the principal company and its subsidiaries and consequent complication of accounts.

Financial Legerdemain.

The practice of financial legerdemain in issuing large blocks of New Haven stocks for notes of the New England Navigation company, and manipulating these securities back and forth.

Fictitious sales of New Haven stock

SORRY BEASTLY THING FIZZLED

Annie Bell Proud of Her Attempt to Blow Up Famous Church.

London, July 13.—When Annie Bell, the militant suffragette, was arraigned today for trying yesterday to destroy Archdeacon Wilberforce's famous old church of St. John, Evangelist, Westminster, with a bomb, she said, "the only thing I regret is that the beastly thing did not go off."

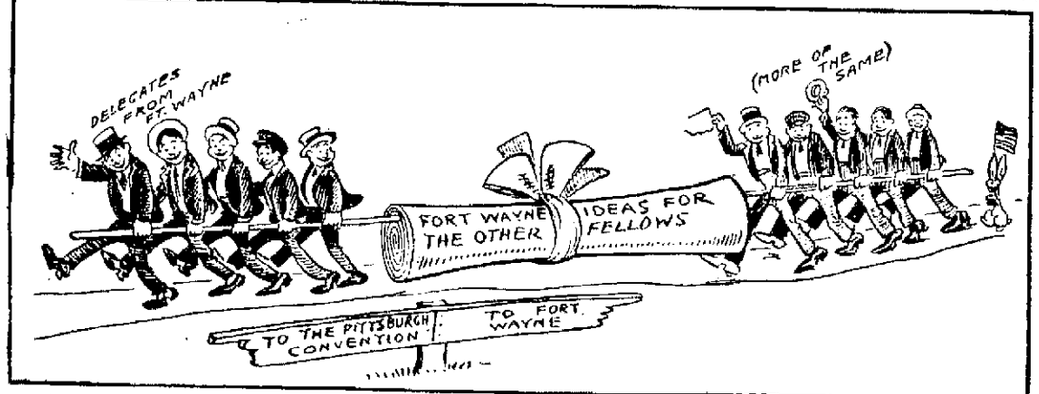

The prisoner expressed intense pride in her act. She congratulated the woman worshipper who had detected her setting fire to the fuse attached to a can of gunpowder and said her smartness was worthy of a better cause. She advised her to become a militant suffragette.

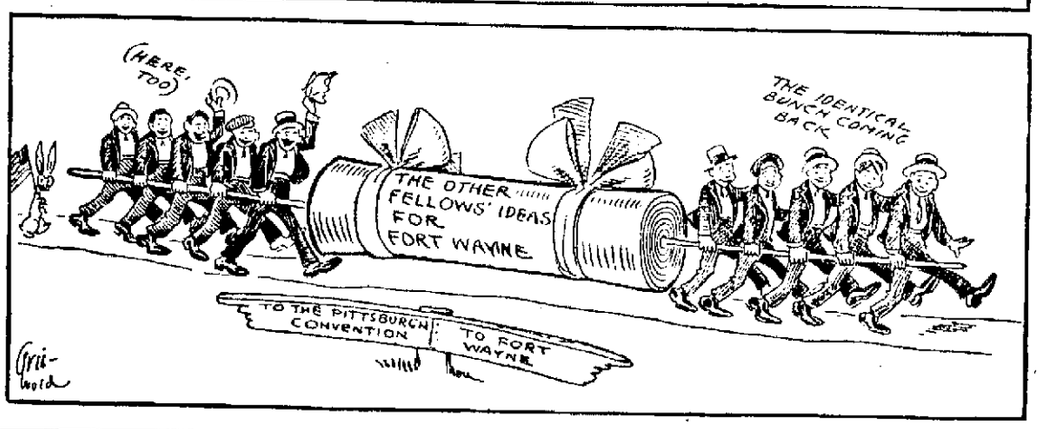

"I meant the bomb to go off and blow up the church right enough," said Miss Bell.

The prisoner then stretched herself at full length on the seat in the prisoners' enclosure and asked the woman warden to give her a pillow and wake her when the case had concluded.

"Good bye, you paid bully," was Miss Bell's farewell to the magistrate when he remanded her.

Plan for Huerta's Retirement Likely to Stop the Fighting.

NEXT BIG SCENE AT MEXICO CITY

Foreign Nations Frown on Military Occupation of Capital.

BULLETIN.

Mexico City, July 13.—Authoritative quarters here today declare that unless a quick agreement is reached between the contending factions in Mexico, Francisco Carbajal, minister for foreign affairs, will sever his connection with the administration.

BULLETIN.

Washington, July 13.—General Carranza formally notified the United States today that he would engage in no mediation whatever with the Huerta delegates and would accept only terms of absolute surrender..

Washington, July 13.—Mexico City was looked to today as the place where the next big scene in the Mexican situation would be staged. Huerta is to quit and turn over the government affairs to his new minister, Francisco Carbajal, and hope was entertained that the government would eventually be turned over to the constitutionalists without further shedding of blood.

Carranza has announced his unwillingness to deal with Carbajal, regarding him as the creation of Huerta. Nevertheless, it has been suggested that parleys for the quick transition of power might take place if Carbajal appeared in the role of representative of a faction, rather than as provisional head of a government which the constitutionalists are to recognize.

Foreign Nations Fearful.

Carranza it was declared, intended to follow the plan of Guadalupe, which provides for military occupation of the capital. However, several European and South American nations, it was

BILLY BAXTER'S LIFE IS ENDED

Death Claims Famous Old-Time Minstrel Man at Chicago.

Chicago, July 13.—Billy Baxter, old time minstrel who had played with nearly all of the leading minstrel companies of America and who had appeared before the royalty of Europe with his banjo, died at a hospital here last night of cirrhosis of the liver.

Born in Cincinnati, Ohio in 1861, he turned early too the stage where his musical talent soon won him a place among the stars of minstrelsy. He made several tours of the world and on many occasions rulers of Europe requested him to play and sing the old "darkey" songs.

A few years ago he retired from the stage and since then had made his home at the Press club in this city. Nearly every night he entertained the newspaper men with his stringed instrument and southern melodies. He will be buried under the auspices of the press club tomorrow.

DOESN'T ACCEPT CARMAN'S THEORY

State's Attorney Scoffs at Idea That Shot Was Intended for Doctor.

Freeport, N. Y., July 13.—Investigation of the murder on June 30 of Mrs. Louise Bailey in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman, has led District Attorney Smith to form a new theory which is in direct contradiction to that brought forward by Dr. Carman that the murderer had planned to kill him and not his patient.

A chart, which the district attorney has had prepared, shows, he says, the identical positions occupied by Dr. Carman and Mrs. Bailey and shows that only the narrowest part of the physician's shoulders could have been visible to the slayer, while an almost unobstructed view of Mrs. Bailey was obtainable. The district attorney also declared that he was positively satisfied that "the shot was fired by a person who knew every inch intimtely of the inside of the room in which the killing occurred." Dr. Carman asserted that he believed the slayer of Mrs. Bailey intended to kill him, but because he was out of range of the revolver at the moment he escaped.

The grand jury will continue to sit this week, but an indictment, if one is voted, charging Mrs. Carman with the crime, is not expected before the end of the week.

Edward Gilmartin, Lumber Merchants, Passes Away.

HAD LIVED HERE SINCE YEAR 1864

Was War Veteran and Also Pioneer Pennsylvania Employe.

Edward Gilmartin, pioneer lumber dealer and a veteran railrouder, died at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning at his home, 209 West Williams street, at the age of seventy-four years. Mr. Gilmartin was head of the firm of E. Gilmartin & Sons, lumber dealers. He had been a resident of Fort Wayne since 1864.

Mr. Gilmartin was one of the best known business men in Fort Wayne. He had been in the lumber business here since 1887, after retiring from railroad activity. He was a leading democrat several years ago and his power and influence in the affairs of the city of Fort Wayne was widespread and strong.

He was a native of Ireland and was born in County Queens, January 13, 1840. He came to America in 1860 and located first in Columbus, Ohio, where he was employed by the Western Union Telegraph company. He was a veteran of the civil war and during the rebellion served as builder of the military telegraph lines for the Army of the Potomac. In 1862, while working on a cable from Cape Charles to Fortress Monroe, he was shipwrecked and the harrowing experience was one of his best remembered incidents during his life of activity.

In 1864 he was employed to assume charge of the telegraph lines of the western division of the Pennsylvania company, and came to Fort Wayne. In

TAFT'S NAME UP AMONG THE REST

Discussing Possible Names for Supreme Court Place.

Washington, July 13.—Discussion as to whom President Wilson might appoint to fill the vacancy on the supreme court bench caused by the death of Associate Justice Lurton continued here today. The names of those mentioned in connection with the vacancy include former President Taft, members of the cabinet and others.

In official circles there was some discussion as to the choice of a successor to Justice Lurton, but no one cared to venture an opinion as to whom the president might appoint. It is not believed that the president has yet even considered any name in connection with the vacancy. As a result of Justice Lurton's death the president will be called upon to make his first appointment to the supreme bench.

In addition to Mr. Taft those mentioned include Attorney General McReynolds, Secretaries Lane and Garrison, Senator Shields of Tennessee, a former justice of the supreme court of that state; Frederick W. Lehman, former solicitor general and one of the American delegates to the Mexican peace congress at Niagara Falls, and that of John W. Davis, of West Virginia, the solicitor general.

Former President Taft is known to have had an ambition to round out his career as a justice of the highest court of the land. Whether he still cherishes that ambition is not known here. When it was reported last winter that Justice Lurton was about to retire it was suggested that Mr. Taft might be offered the place, but it was stated at the white house that his name had not been mentioned. In official circles it is not thought likely that the president will appoint a member of the cabinet because of his desire to go through his term without a change in his official family.

Before the death of Justice Lurton the supreme court was made up of six republicans and three democrats. By his death the democratic representation on the bench is reduced to two, Chief Justice White and Associate Justice Lamar. It is thought under these circumstances, it is likely the president will name a democrat for the vacancy. Furthermore there has been a rule in the senate, which must confirm the nomination, that the minority membership shall not fall below three at any time.

Belief was expressed in congress today that the president will make the appointment before adjournment so that the nominee may be confirmed in time to take his seat in the court at the beginning of the fall term in October.

LAST BALLOON HAS REPORTED

San Francisco 1915 Makes Landing in Illinois on Sunday.

St. Louis, July 13.—The San Francisco 1915, piloted by E. S. Cole, of St. Louis, landed eleven miles southeast of McLeansboro, Ill., at 10 o'clock a. m. Sunday according to a telegram from Pilot Cole today. It was the last to report of the balloons which started in the elimination contest which was begun here Saturday afternoon. Of the seven which reported yesterday six had not covered 200 miles. Their progress was hampered first by the lack of strong air currents—at any altitude—and later by terrific storms, which the balloonists encountered miles above the earth.

The "Goodyear," piloted by R. A. D. Preston, of Akron, Ohio, made the best record of those reported down yesterday. Preston and his aide, M. D. Tremlin, also of Akron, landed at Constance, Ky., somewhat more than 300 miles from St. Louis in an air line. The Aero club of America will now begin at New York compiling the official distances covered by each contestant and the balloon which lands farthest from St. Louis will be the third American balloon to start next October in the international race.

WORKERS RETURN TO SHOPS.

Wastinghouse Strike at Pittsburg is Formally Ended.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 13.—The strike in the Westinghouse factories was formally ended today when approximately 8,000 men and women returned to the shops. All plants were placed on full time and strikers were taken back with the exception of two or three hundred whose places had been filled. Half a dozen deputy sheriffs were on guard at the electric works, but it was said the sheriff would recall them during the day.

BIG BUILDING HIT IN STORM

Robison Park Pavilion is Fired by Lightning Early Monday.

SAVED BY MANAGER AND HIS EMPLOYES

Heavy Thundershowers in Fort Wayne Break the Heat Wave.

During the electrical storm early Monday morning a bolt of lightning followed the wires of the lighting system into the basement of the big pavilion at Robison park and set fire to the stock of provisions and later attacked the floor, but the presence of fire hose, a water supply and some fast and effective work on the part of Manager C. H. Williams and three of his employes saved the structure from destruction.

George Fraine, Ira Parker and Paul Spratis sleep in the building and the manager also makes his home there. They were awakened by the blinding flash of lightning and the terrific detonation of the thunder that followed, but until the smoke from the burning cellar found its way into their sleeping apartments they had no idea that a bolt had entered the building.

With the manager all got out in their night clothing, unreeled the hose kept for just such emergencies and attacked the blaze. It was stubborn and hard to overcome, but there was no chance to obtain assistance and the men stuck at their task until the flames were extinguished with a loss estimated at from $300 to $400.

MARK STOREN IS GIVEN THE JOB

Scottsburg Man Nominated as U. S. Marshal for Indiana.

Washington, July 13.—President Wilson today nominated Mark Storen, of Scottsburg, Ind., for United States marshal for Indiana.

The position is now held by Edgar H. Schmidt, of Indianapolis, a republican appointee of President Taft. Mr. Schmidt's term of office does not expire until next year. His resignation was recently requested from Washington, but it is not believed to have been forthcoming.

Mr. Schmidt's place has been sought by a number of Indiana democrats, but it has been known for some time that Mr. Storen was slated for the appointment.

Washington, D. C., July 13.—Two young Texans, neither of 'em big enough to travel far without a perambulator, are occupying a great deal of attention just now in Washington and taking all the time the postmaster general can spare from the business of the nation.

The baby boys of Mrs. Richard Van Wyck Negley, eldest daughter of Postmaster General Burleson, are the popular youngsters. They have come from Austin, Texas, with their mother to spend the summer at the capitol.

ORANGEMEN ARE OUT IN FORCE

Intense Feeling Pervades Day's Celebrations in Ireland.

Belfast, Ireland, July 13.—The insistent demand of the Protestant portion of the province of Ulster for the exclusion from the operations of the Irish home rule, lent added interest to today's celebration of the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne. The celebration was carried out here with great enthusiasm. Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster unionist leader, rode at the head of some 5,000 Orangemen, accompanied by the usual fife and drum bands and including a sprinkling of brethren from the United States and the British colonies.

They marched through the city of Belfast to drum beat, where it was addressed by Sir Edward and other leaders. The Nationalist quarter of Belfast was carefully avoided by the demonstrants and on no occasion during the procession did the rival factions come into contact. So little did the authorities expect trouble that they depended entirely on the local police force to keep order, but all the military were confined to barracks as is usually the case during political demonstrations.

PREPARE FOR A CLASH.

Londonderry, Ireland, July 13.—The Orangemen here began the celebration of the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne with a parade during which they projected their explosives so that they burst over the residences in the Catholic section. The nationalists believing the cannonade to be the prelude to aggressive action on the part of the Orangemen, organized for the defense, but up till noon no collision between the two parties had taken place.

While the Orangemen were attending church on Sunday and the police were busy guarding their processions the nationalist volunteers succeeded in bringing into the city two automobile loads of rifles.

SCENE OF ENTHUSIASM.

Drumbeg, Ireland, July 13.—The Orangemen's demonstration here today culminated in a scene of immense enthusiasm around the tiny platform where Sir Edward Carson, bible in hand, pledged the covenanters never to surrender to coercion, to remain loyal to the throne and never to waver in their support of their leaders in the fight against home rule.

Sir Edward Carson in a speech which evoked tremendous enthusiasm served notice on the British government that unless it was prepared to leave Ulster alone it would very shortly find the Ulstermen recognizing no government except the provisional government of Ulster.

SAY BUSINESS GROWS BETTER

More Business Men Meet President to Talk of Conditions.

Washington, July 13.—President Wilson today continued his conferences with business men on conditions throughout the country and bearing on the anti-trust program. He saw Raphael Herman, of Detroit, and Joseph G. Branch, of Chicago. Other conferences of a similar nature will be held at the white house later this week.

Mr. Herman, who was introduced to the president by Representative Doremus, of Michigan, told the president that, in his opinion, business men generally agreed that anti-trust legislation should be put through at the present session of congress and that business conditions generally were improving.

President Wilson today denied that there was any conflict between him and the senate over the nomiciations of Paul Warburg and Thomas D. Jones as members of the federal reserve board. In talks with callers he declared he was working in complete harmony with the democratic majority in the senate, with only one or two exceptions. Mr. Wilson said he had definite assurance Mr. Jones would be confirmed. He did not discuss the case of Mr. Warburg except to say that he thought the senate as a whole would be perfectly fair.

A Fall Prophecy.

If your great-grandmother were alive she would say when you showed her the new design for fall: "This is just the kind of a gown I wore when I was a girl".

It's not quite the same, for the very narrow underskirt had no place in grandmother's wardrobe.

But the tight "darted" waist and the tight sleeves "set in" at the armhole was considered quite as stylish then as they are now. You may also look for the new full tunics that are gathered about the waist and the sash that ties either in the front or back.

Funeral Party With Body of Late Justice Lurton Now En Route.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 13.—En route to Clarksville, Tenn., where funeral services and interment will occur, the funeral party accompanying the remains of the late Justice Lurton, of the United States supreme court, whose death occurred suddenly here yesterday, left Atlantic City today. Owing to a change of route the party will not pass through the capital.

Chief Justice White, at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., has arranged to go to Clarksville with Justice Lamar, but other members of the court, widely scattered for their summer vacations, may not be able to attend.

End Comes Suddenly.

Justice Lurton was 70 years old, and death was due to heart failure superinduced by cardiac asthma. He had been in impaired health for some time, but his sudden death was unexpected.

The justice, who came here on July 1, was in his usual health before retiring Saturday night and had taken his customary evening outing on the board walk. Shortly after midnight he complained of feeling ill, and although his physician, Dr. Ruffin, who arrived yesterday from Washington, was immediately summoned, Justice Lurton died at 5 o'clock Sunday morning. His wife and his son, Horace H. Lurton, jr., of Nashville, were at the bedside.

Horace Harmon Lurton was born at Newport, Ky., in 1844. He was educated in the public schools, Douglas university and Cumberland university and served three years in the confederate army. He was appointed chancellor of the Sixth chancery district of Tennessee by Governor Porter in 1874 to fill a vacancy and in 1876 he was elected without opposition to the same position. Later he was elected judge of the supreme court of Tennessee and in 1893 was chosen chief justice of that tribunal. He was appointed circuit judge for the Sixth judicial district of the United States by President Cleveland the same year and was appointed by President Taft to be associate justice of the supreme court of the United States December 20, 1909, taking his seat on the bench January 3, 1910.

said, might frown on such a course. They regard with apprehension the possibility of fighting in Mexico City and forceful assumption of power without some previous guarantee to the populace. It has been strongly intimated that if Carranza, after Huerta's elimination, should insist upon his original program disapproval would be manifested by several nations. They might refuse to recognize the constitutionalist leader unless he showed a disposition to give some quarter.

Little Further Fighting.

Indications were not lacking, however, that a way may be found for the transfer of power without much further fighting. The impression prevailed widely in Washington that hostilities in Mexico were near an end. It was suggested that if arrangements of peace were settled upon Carranza could enter the capital with only a comparatively small force to help preserve order. The remainder of his armies would remain at the capital's gates or near their present quarters to be disposed upon the restoration of peace.

All hope of any parley between representatives of Huerta who took part in the Niagara proceedings and the constitutionalists upon the basis proposed by the South American representatives has been abandoned. Carranza has not formally replied to the mediators' proposal, but official messages from his headquarters at Saltillo have indicated what his reply would be. General Villa was reported to have received a message from Carranza, asserting offers of mediation by the South American envoys in Mexico's internal affairs would not be accepted. Carranza was quoted as saying the only thing he would accept was the surrender of Huerta and his army.

Expect Him to Quit Soon.

Huerta, it was believed, would quit his office some day this week. Automatically the new foreign minister, Francisco Carbajal, would assume the role of provisional president. Carbajal is a man of law. He is less than fifty years old. Of an academic temperament, he never has served in the army. He came into international prominence as the envoy of Diaz at the Juarez peace conference in 1911 after the Madero revolution.

A few weeks ago he was elected chief justice of the republic's supreme court, after serving several years as associate justice. He received his education in Mexico. He is said to be of a conciliatory disposition, anxious for the restoration of order and not likely to elect to resist with an army the approach of the constitutionalists.

CURRENCY FOR CARRANZA.

Shipment of $5,000,000 Delivered to Agents at Juarez.

El Paso, Texas, July 13.—Five million dollars in constitutionalist currency and a freight car filled with stamping machines, were delivered in Juarez, Mexico today by Villa agents to Alberto Pani, special representative of Carranza. The money and machinery were seized several weeks ago in Juarez by Villa officials from Serapo Aguirro, treasurer general of the constitutionalists. Soldiers guarded the car and its contents after its arrival in Juarez last night from Chihuahua City. The currency will be shipped to Carranza headquarters in Monterey, according to constitutionalist officials here. It was reported that Treasurer Aguirro and the other Carranza officers who have been held as prisoners in Chihuahua were at liberty and would arrive on the border this week. They will accompany Gen. Villa to Juarez when he makes his flying trip northward, said Carranza agents here today.

HAD BEEN ILL MANY MONTHS

1867 he was united in marriage to Miss Katheryn Lynch.

Mr. Gilmartin was transferred to the Grand Rapids and Indiana road in 1870 and remained with that company until 1887, when he retired to engage in private business. He first dealt in telephone and telegraph poles, but later went into the lumber business, and at the time of his death was the active head of the firm he founded. His illness dated from last January, and it is said his death was due to Bright's disease and other complications.

He was one of the oldest members of St. Patrick's Catholic parish and was identified with the Holy Name society, the Sacred Heart league, the Catholic Knights of America and the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Surviving he leaves the widow and eight of a family of eleven children, as follows: Mrs. W. B. McDonald, of Kalispel, Mont.; W. H. Gilmartin, of Nevada; M. J., E. T., F. J., Mary, Helen and Alice Gilmartin, all of this city. He also leaves a brother and sister, William Gilmartin and Mrs. Mary Dalaney, of County Queens, Ireland. He leaves six grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

No arrangements have been perfected at this time for the funeral, but friends are asked to kindly omit flowers.

OBSERVES 1300TH ANNIVERSARY.

Disentis Celebrates Foundation of Benedictine Abbey.

Disentis, Switzerland, July 13.—The Canton of Grisons celebrated today the 1300th anniversary of the foundation of the Benedictine abbey here by Saint Sigisbert, an Irishman, who in 614 began his work of converting the wild hunters of the Alpine forests. The abbey is reputed to be the oldest in the world except one in Roma.

The flames found their way into Mr. Williams' private office and destroyed all of his correspondence and a number of important papers and some of the souvenirs for Boys' day on Wednesday of this week went up in smoke. The desk, the chairs and Mr. Williams' clothing went along with his other effects, but the fire will not interfere with business at the park as the stores have been replenished and more souvenirs will be obtained.

Fortunately the flames were discovered before they had made any great headway as the building is all of wood and was unusually dry on account of the extremely warm weather.

Hits Signal Box.

Shortly before 1 o'clock Monday afternoon lightning struck the traction company's signal box on Clinton street, between Main and Berry, and after burning out the insulation there the bolt communicated itself to the direct cables leading to the main office of the Home Telegraph and Telephone company and burned out a large number of fuses.

This damage was quickly repaired, but the odor of the burning insulation permeated the atmosphere of the entire business district and the company's wires were kept busy for more than a half hour by calls from business houses and others interested to determine the cause of the odor, greatly resembling burning rubber.

Weather Man Shocked.

When a bolt of lightning sailed across the business district of the city in the vicinity of Berry and Calhoun streets, B. A. Stewart, apprentice weather observer, was knocked from a chair while working in the local station of the government weather bureau on the ninth floor of the Shoaff building. He was badly shocked, but recovered from the effects within a few minutes.

Heavy Precipitation.

The storm broke early Monday morning and was preceded by a severe electrical demonstration, accompanied by loud claps of thunder. The precipitation up to 7 o'clock Monday morning totaled .38 of an inch, and from 7 o'clock until noon the precipitation amounted to .26 of an inch. The heaviest rainfall, it is said, was registered shortly after 12 o'clock Monday noon. So heavy was the precipitation for a time that it was almost impossible to see for more than a half block in any direction.

The rain at its worst time just as hundreds of store and office employes and shopmen were leaving for their noonday lunch and scores of people in the downtown district were drenched.

Freakish Lightning.

The electrical portion of the storm was of the freakish variety and while several narrow escapes from injury were reported at noon, no serious fires followed the storm. The department made one run to the building at 119 East Main street, owned by Horace Mariotte and occupied by the Budweiser saloon and the store room of the Blue Cast Springs company. Lightning followed electrical wires to the basement of the building and when the bolt reached a junction between the wire and some exposed gas pipe, a blaze followed and burned a large hole in the floor of the building, resulting in a loss of approximately $25.

At Transfer Corner.

Lightning played freakishly about the transfer corner and at noon a bolt came in contact with the heavy network of traction company wires over the street, followed them for a while and then jumped to one of the support posts and went to the ground. About thirty people were standing in convenient doorways at the time and witnessed the spectacle, but nobody was shocked by the lightning.

Another bolt followed the trolley wires down Calhoun street, from Washington boulevard to Jefferson street, where it came in contact with the trolley pole of a southbound street car. The car fuses were burned out and for some time the cars were stranded without power.

Corn is Laid Low.

West and northwest of Churubusco the storm is reported to have been of particular intensity, and reports Monday afternoon were to the effect that hundreds of acres of corn in that region had been beaten down by the storm.

During the play of the lightning shortly after the noon hour a telephone pole in front of the Kayser & Baade grocery, at Broadway and Jefferson street, was struck by the current, but no damage resulted to its surroundings.

Humidity is High.

While the rain was expected to bring relief from the intense heat, no relief was felt in Fort Wayne during the morning, because of the high humidity. It was reported about noon that the relative humidity totaled 90 degrees. This was due, it is said, to the fact that the early morning rains were followed by periods when the skies cleared and the sun beat down with a vengeance, it seemed. Early in the afternoon, however, the atmosphere had cooled considerably and with fresh winds from the west and southwest, Fort Wayne enjoyed its first cool breath in several days.

Officials in the weather bureau declare that the rainstorm extends over an area from the Mississippi river east to the coast, and it is liable to continue indefinitely.

Hail in Morning.

For a period of more than five minutes the rain early Monday morning was accompanied by a heavy hail storm. The hail at times measured a half-inch in diameter, and it is feared that it did a great deal of damage to maturing fruit and berries. A slight fall of hail came during the forenoon.

Most of the Allen county wheat crop has been cut and shocked and was not damaged by the storm, but the heavy rain and hail, early in the day, is said to have caused a little damage to the ripening oats.

Lightning Slays Five Cows.

During the heavy electrical and rain storm that swept over Fort Wayne and vicinity shortly after 4 o'clock Monday morning five cows were killed by lightning on the farm of William Becket, about three miles north of the city on the St. Joe road. The cows had taken refuge from the storm under a large isolated elm tree in the field where they were pastured and after the manner of cattle had their heads together about the trunk of the tree. A bolt of lightning struck the tree and the entire bunch of cows were laid dead in a heap. The cows were all milk producers of good breed and the loss to Mr. Becket is heavy.

Lightning struck the residence of J. E. Gruber on Brackenridge street but did no serious damage.

DROWNS IN SHALLOW WATER.

Huntington, Ind., July 13.—His source of air cut off as he lay, face down, in water about one foot deep, Isaac Sharp, aged 42 years, of Andrews, was drowned in the Wabash river Sunday afternoon during an attack of epilepsy. The body of Sharp was found about 3 o'clock in the Wabash river near the Huntington-Dallas township line, two miles east of Andrews, by Bruce Ridley and a son of Michael Kinsy, who lives near the scene of the drowning. Sharp was subject to attacks of epilepsy. His body, when found, was slightly rigid and its position gives evidence that death came without great struggle during an attack of epilepsy. The body was lying with the face partly under the water, showing that death had been caused by asphyxiation.

Witnesses told to Coroner Galbreath a number of facts concerning the finding of the body and the position in which it lay. They said a bucket, in which six crawfish had been placed, was found on a large stone near the bank.

Between the place where the bucket had been placed and where the body of Sharp was found, three small stones in the body of the river had been turned over, indicating that Sharp had turned the stones over in his search for fish bait.

It is believed that Sharp suffered an attack of epilepsy as he stood in the river.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Delphos, O., July 13.—After nearly ten hours of deliberation in the case of Elias Miller, aged 36, of Middlepoint, charged with the murder of Joseph Frederick, of Lima, in this city, April 18, the jury returned a verdict of manslaughter. Judge Klinger, of Lima, heard the case. When it was announced that the jury had arrived at a verdict, Judge Klinger ordered that Miller be brought into court. Miller was in the indifferent mood that has characterized his conduct during the course of the trial and displayed no outward sign of emotion when the court read the verdict of the jury. Miller will be sentenced next Wednesday, the law providing that the sentence for manslaughter shall be an indeterminate term in the Ohio penitentiary.

THRASHING OUTFIT BURNED.

Marion, Ind., July 13.—Fire which destroyed a new thrashing machine and 240 bushels of wheat on the farm of George W. Wilson, seven miles east of this city, spread to the stubble field in which the thrashing work was in progress and in fighting the flames Mrs. Leo Wilson and Miss Gladys Wilson were overcome by the heat. Mrs. Wilson's face was burned to a blister and for a time her condition was critical. It is believed both women will recover. Matthew Nelson and Levi Conley, owners of the thrashing outfit, estimate their loss at $1,500, while George W. Wilson and two neighbors, whose wagons burned, lost about $500. The thrashing machine was new, having been used only since Monday. It was not insured.

BIG CROPS IN DEKALB.

Auburn, Ind., July 13.—That the wheat yield in DeKalb county this year will exceed the average yield for the last five years, is an opinion expressed by Herman L. Brown, of the firm of Wimer & Brown, local grain dealers. Mr. Brown said that the quality of the wheat this year is good and will equal that of 1913, while the acreage in wheat this year will exceed that of last year. Practically all the wheat in the county has been cut. The outs looks good and while the acreage is less than that of 1913, the quality of grain to be harvested promises to be good. There was a good hay crop this year in the county and prospects for a bumper corn crop are good.

LOCKJAW CAUSES DEATH.

Columbia City, Ind., July 13.—Lockjaw, which developed last Friday, caused the death of William Sievers, aged 51, a well known farmer residing three miles from this city. While unloading hay at his farm on the Fourth of July Sievers had bonh bones in his wrist broken when he fell fror the load to the barn floor. He received prompt surgical attention, but te injury did not heal and on Friday tetanus developed. Anti-toxin was used, but the malady resisted that treatment and he died Sunday afternoon. He is survived by a widow and three children.

POULTRY THIEVES USE AUTO.

Huntington, Ind., July 13.—Chicken thieves in Union township are abreast of the times and instead of using the old-fashioned mysterious spring wagon with its innocent looking coops nailed on the bed they are using an automobile, according to farmers from that township. Albert Rice, residing just north of Mardenis, had 150 prize young chickens stolen from his coops. According to neighbors a motor car was heard chugging along the road near the Rice farm late in the night, and it is suspected the thieves used the car to transport their loot.

KENDALLVILLE CITY CLERK DIES.

Kendallville, Ind., July 13.—The burdens of age and the extreme heat are thought to have been the contributing causes to the attack of heart disease that resulted in the sudden death of William P. Myers, city clerk of Kendallville, near midnight Saturday. He was at work in his office during the day and apparently was in his usual health. The deceased had for eight years served as city clerk and was active and prominent in political and other public affairs of the city. Twenty years ago he came here from Auburn. A widow and three sons survive him.

JAY COUNTY MAN DIES AT 98.

Portland, Ind., July 13.—George Phalen, aged ninety-eight years and probably the oldest resident of the county, is dead at his late home six miles east of the city. He was taken ill of pneumonia one week ago, which resulted in death. The aged man was a son of George and Lusinda Phalen and was born in Ireland in the year 1816, and had been a resident of Jay county over fifty years. Mr. Phalen never married and in his declining years his nephew and niedes, Robert, Lizzie and Mary Phalen took lare of him.

TO OVERCOME SUNBURN, TAN, FRECKLES, WRINKLES

If your skin is unduly wrinkled, freckled or tanned, dab a liberal amount of mercolized wax on the face and allow it to remain over night. When you wash off the wax in the morning, fine flaky, almost invisible particles of cuticle come with it. Repeating this daily, the entire outer skin is absorbed, but so gradually there's not the slightest hurt or inconvenience. Even the stubbornest freckles are affected. The underlying skin which forms the new complexion is so fresh and youthful looking, you'll marvel at the transformation. It's the only thing known to actually discard an aged, faded, muddy or blotchy complexion. One ounce of mercolized wax procurable at any drug store, is sufficient in most cases.

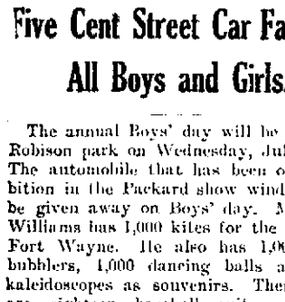

If sun and wins make you squint and frown, you're bound to cultivate wrinkles and crow's feet. To overcome these quickly, bathe the face in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel.

Boys' Day, Wednesday, July 15th

Five Cent Street Car Fare for All Boys and Girls.

The annual Boys' day will be held at Robison park on Wednesday, July 15th. The automobile that has been on exhibition in the Packard show window will be given away on Boys' day. Manager Williams has 1,000 kites for the boys of Fort Wayne. He also has 1,000 soap bubblers, 1,000 dancing balls and 500 kaleidoscopes as souvenirs. Then there are eighteen baseball suits, eighteen catchers' mitts, eighteen face masks and eighteen pairs of roller skates. Fifty baseballs will be thrown from the top of the theater building. Baseball bats of good quality will be given to twenty-four boys. The greased pole will have a special prize at its summit. There will be a potato race, a cracker-eating contest, a sack race, a frog race, a hopping race and a great, big, scrambling shoe race in which all the boys pile their shoes in a common pile; the first boy to find shoes and return to starting point with shoes on, properly laced, wins. Do not wear new shoes, but come to the park with old shoes, lest some good shoes be lost in the scramble. This race will be a mighty mix-up and great fun. Boys' day could not be held without the ever popular Copper Trail in which 1,000 pennies will be scattered along the pathway. You remember what sport it was on Romp day last year. Great bushel baskets of candy will be distributed on Boys' day, Wednesday, July 15th. 8-eod3t

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Acts 21 :15-26.

15 And after those days we took up our carriages, and went up to Jerusalem.

16 There went with us also certain of the disciples of Caesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto James; and all the elders were present,

19 And when he had saluted them, he declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe; and they are all zealous of the law:

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have a vow on them;

24 Them take, and purify thyself with them, and be at charges with them, that they may shave their heads: and all may know that those things, whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, and keepest the law.

25 As touching the Gentiles which believe, we have written and concluded that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them entered the temple, to signify the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that an offering should be offered for every one of them.

Inheritance Tax Income.

Original estimates that Indiana's inheritance tax law, passed by the last legislature, would yield a revenue of something like $500,000 to the state annually do not appear to be borne out by reports of the actual operation of the law just made by Albert E. Hunke, the inheritance tax investigator. Rather, it seems that $300,000 will be an outside estimate on the revenues from this source, and the total may fall short of even that figure.

For the three months, ending June 30, a total of $78,199.70 has been assessed as inheritance tax in the state. Of this sum, $19,971.01 was paid in Marion county. A substantial part of the tax during the last quarter came from the Wyman estate in St. Joseph county, which yielded $16,085, and which is the largest sum yet paid by any one estate. Allen county was a substantial contributor, with $1,446.85 from the estate of A. E. Hoffman, and $544.04 from the estate of Myron Downing, both of Fort Wayne. Huntington county's largest contribution was $163.35 from the estate of Olive O. Nelson.

Aside from these assessments, the state has received some $38,000 for the thirteen months the law has been in operation, but it is to be borne in mind that the law did not become compulsory until a year after its passage, and that sums paid in prior to the quarter just ended were contributed voluntarily. With a basis of something like $78,000 per quarter, then, it seems fair to conclude that the half million yield counted upon each year by those who framed the law can scarcely be reached for some years, at least.

Despite ordinances and police regulations designed to control the situation, complaint is made that boys and young men who are making use of the rivers as swimming places in full view of residential sections of the city are shockingly inconsiderate of conventionalities in the matter of disrobing to don bathing attire. It is true that the city should provide swimming pools with suitable dressing enclosures, and the time will come when this will be a part of the park department's system, but lack of present facilities of this kind does not justify offenses as now perpetrated. Some especial vigilance on the part of the police would doubtless have a salutary effect.

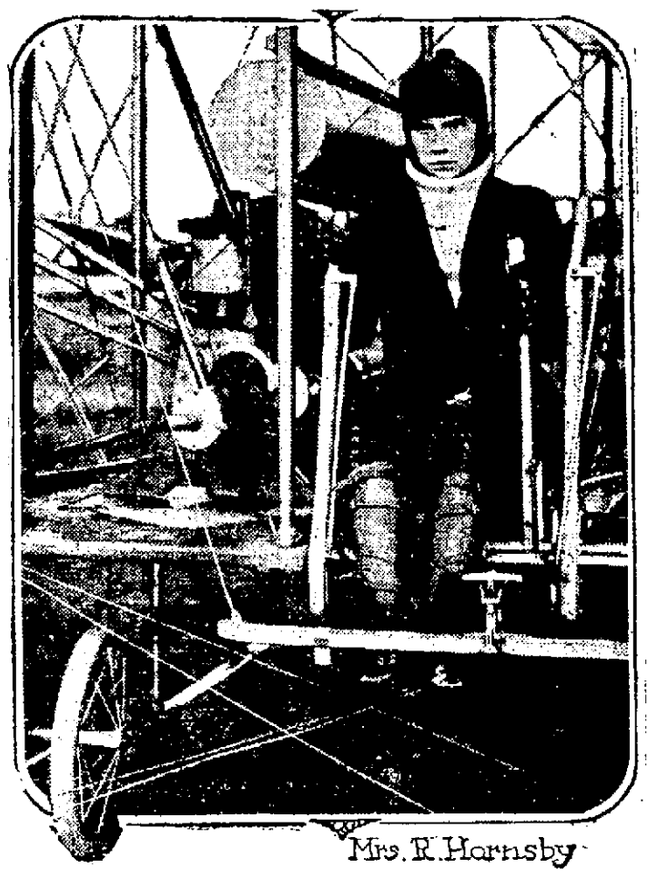

Conviction and a fine of $500 has followed a second trial on appeal of an Indianapolis meat packer on a charge of having in his possession unwholesome meat with intent to dispose of it as food. The outcome is only after a strenuous fight by attorneys to save their client, and it is announced that further appeal will be taken. There is every inducement for a battle in the case to the bitter end. It is unfortunate if an innocent man be forced to lie under charge of this character, but what is more essential is that if that sort of thing is being practiced, the public ought to have the fullest information regarding it.

Telegraphic dispatches recording temperatures during the present torrid wave, make it clearly apparent that civic rivalry has progressed to a point of intensity where ambitious towns have lost sight of other points of distinction and are attempting to grab off the heat record against all comers.

Meanwhile, what have you done toward furthering the project for a convention hall in Fort Wayne? This is one of the pressing needs that should not be set aside, and it is a movement that deserves universal support. Get behind it and do your part.

General Huerta may be really going to resign according to the latest forecasts, but this thing has missed fire so often that nothing less than a visible demonstration will inspire general confidence in the newest declaration to that effect.

"FLYING NO JOB FOR WOMAN," SAYS THE GREATEST WOMAN FLYER.

Mrs. R. Hornsby

Chicago, July 13.—Flying is no job for women—and never will be!

"Nature herself has forbidden them to risk their lives foolishly in the air. Through the mother instinct in them Nature will hold them always close to mother earth."

It was one of the most expert of the world's six licensed bird-women who, at my question, thus excluded the rest of her sex from participation in the great air game of which she herself is a master.

Mrs. Rickberg Hornsby of Chicago is the first and only pupil of Orville Wright.

"The prettiest flying I ever saw a beginner do!" was Wright's exclamation twice repeated, during Mrs. Hornsby's trials.

During the first flight which has just won her the license, her plane was nearly upset by a sudden thirty-mile gust of wind. Only her coolness and daring in shutting off the engine and soaring to earth from a great height saved her life.

"Oh, yes," said Mrs. Hornsby, "we women have daring enough. Lincoln Beachey has said that women will never fly, because they lack nerve. But that isn't true. Women have got the nerve. We're far nervier than men—in a good cause.

"But women won't juggle their lives recklessly as men do, just for the pure sport of it. The reason is that life is much more persistent in women than in men. They are the mothers of life. It is their most deep-rooted instinct to guard their own lives, in order that life itself, in the soul of little babies, may be preserved.

"And so they will never face the fatal game of flying!"

"Fatal?" I asked. "Do you expect, then, that some day you will end as they all do?

"Yes," Miss Hornsby acknowledged simply, with a sky smile. I expect I will.

"But not for a while," she added. "And I'd rather end that way than get run over by a truck in a city street!

"So far, my only accident with an aeroplane occured when I was outside it, safe on the ground! I ran into it, head first! But in the air I always watch what I'm doing and keep cool. The pilot who does that, and knows his motor, need fear no catastrophe.

"But most women know nothing at all about motors, and that's another reason they will never become flyers. They have no mechanical ability, and they simply will not get themselves dirty and greasy and bruised in working over a motor.

"You see, they can't get interested enough in a lifeless creation of wood and metal to sacrifice themselves for it, as men do with enthusiasm. Women will only love and sacrifice themselves for a body that is warm with life and quick with human emotion.

"Nature has give the spark of eternal life especially into their charge, and they feel the responsibility so deeply that they will never be willing to toss that life recklessly up into the air and risk it daily, as I do and as all birdmen must."

The Automobile on Boys' Day

Arthur Zimmerman a young lad residing on Columbia avenue, has sent the following verses to Manager Williams. Arthur is especially invited to BOYS' DAY, and while he may not be so fortunate as to win the Automobile, he will find a little gift awaiting him engraved with his monogram:

BOYS' DAY is fast approaching,
We greet it with a cheer
The best day of vacation!
The finest of the year.

We hope for ideal weather,
No signs of rain or hail,
So we can march in the big parade
And follow the Copper Trail.

Each night as I pass with my papers,
In the Packard window I find
The little red Automobile,
Its engraven deep on my mind.

The little red Auto so splendid,
The desire of each boy in Fort Wayne.
So here's to the lucky fellow
My hopes I need not explain.

WANTS NEW IMPEACHMENT LAW.

Governor Ralston Favors More Rigorous Statute.

Indianapolis, July 13.—Governor Ralston, in the interest of law enforcement, will ask the next general assembly to enact a new impeachment law.

He considers the present law difficult of operation. He would strengthen it to make it easier to dispossess a public official if guilty of an impeachable offense. He believes a new impeachment statute would make a law providing for the recall of officials unnecessary. The governor said:

"A public official who forgets his oath and neglects his duty should be removed, and I favor changes in the impeachment law to make possible his dismissal."

LITTLE CATHERINE WALLACE MAKES PETS OF WILD ANIMALS.

Now comes little Miss Catherine Wallace, aged four years, "a child of the sawdust ring"—her mother, Mrs. Rose Wallace, is wardrobe mistress for the Barnum and Bailey circus, which exhibits here Saturday, July 18th, and throws a bomb into the camp of little girls who think they are in the seventh heaven of delight when they are cuddling their dollies or stroking the silky fur of their kittens.

Little Miss Wallace says that the average girl does not know what a real bestest-to-goodness pet is. She turns up her little nose in disdain at the thought of playing with dolls, or even with kitten and dogs.

She is partial to wild animals for pets, and will stroke the ear of a lion with the same kindness and love that other little girls show in putting their dolls to bed. They all know and love her, and if she pets the lion too much the leopard and the tiger get jealous. The little girl's fun with her wild pets is strictly a personal and private matter, and she detests intruders. Right now her "family" consists of a baby lion, a baby tiger and a baby leopard. None of the animals are more than a few months' old and they scamper and play around with the little girl and are the best of friends—as long as she treats them all alike. The little girl is not loth to pose for her picture. She gathers her pets about her and grins happily.

"My pets are better than dolls," she lisps. "I'd rather play with my lion and my tiger and my leopard than to play with dolls and kittens. They can almost talk to me. We have lots of fun, a heap more than I could have with dolls."

The menagerie with the circus this year is larger than ever and many notable additions have been made. A baby giraffe, born last March, is the stellar offering. The circus, itself, comes in an entire new dress and with a world of new features. A new spectacle, "The Wizard Prince of Arabia," in which over 1,000 persons take part, including a big ballet, is only one of the new things promised. There will be a parade show day morning.

PICNICS ATTRACT LARGE THRONGS

Annual Affair of the Moose Lodge Was in Form of Children's Day.

The various picnics of secret orders and other organizations held at the various parks of Fort Wayne Sunday attracted large crowds who were hunting relief from the intense heat and also for a place of enjoyment. Among the best attended annual affairs were those of the Moose lodge held at Swinney park, which was in the form of a Children's day program; the Buffaloes picnic given at Centlivre park, and the Workman's picnic, held at Germania park.

The picnic at Swinney park by the Loyal Order of Moose, No. 200, was one of the best the order has ever given and all afternoon crowds passed to and from the park and witnessed the athletic events of the day. Prizes were won by the following:

50-yard dash—First prize, Miss Creigh; second prize, Miss Haslup; third prize, Miss Lampke, (for girls over fourteen years of age.)

50-yard dash for boys under fifteen—First prize, V. Brophy; second prize, Louis Laurns; third prize, J. Brophy.

Sack race—First prize, V. Brophy; second prize, G. Breman; third prize, R. Gunkel.

Potato race—First prize, C. Wahle; second prize, Miss Henigan; third prize, Miss Gunkel.

Bean race—First prize, Mrs. Gunkel; second prize, Mrs. Schlaudroff; third prize, Mrs. Bleigan.

Over half a thousand Buffaloes were present at the picnic given by the order at Centlivre park Sunday afternoon and with their families enjoyed one of the best picnics ever given. Lunch and refreshments were served during the day and one of the special features was the base ball game between the East end and West end Buffaloes. The score keeper could not count all the runs, so neither side was able to claim a victory.

Over 1,500 people attended the picnic given by the Workmen's Sick and Death Benefit association at Germania park. The receipts were large and this money will be added to the sick and death benefit fund. Only a few numbers of the program of athletic events were given on account of the extreme heat.

Another picnic of the day was that of the Waffengenossen society, held at Ahlersmeyer's grove, south of the city. Automobiles were provided to convey the visitors from the end of the Pontiac street car line to the grounds, where a most enjoyable time was had.

Actress Now Writes Play for Maude Adams

Instance Collier

New York, July 10. Although the public knows her only as an actress, Miss Constance Collier, leading woman in "Thais" and other plays of Oriental flavor, is also a successful dramatist. In collaboration with Edward Sheldon she has made a dramatization of "Alice in Wonderland." Maude Adams is to play the role of the inquisitive Alice.

Fashion Fads.

The newest skirts are short and "slitless."

A white "wescut" is the corret thing with a tailored suit just now.

The Paris shops are showing handbags, purses and card cases made of plaid ribbons.

The hip yoke on some of the new skirts is a marked feature. This yoke is not tight. It really suggests the same line given by the rather loose hip girdle. But it does serve to hold in the fullness of the skirt at the waist line and it is quite satisfactory.

A feature of the new gowns is the jacket having a ripple hanging full from about the middle of the back between the shoulders.

The vogue for bordered effects has resulted in the production of an exceedingly clever double-bordered veil. This novelty has a different pattern on each edge of the veiling so that it can be made to serve the purpose of entirely two different bordered veils. Sometimes a narrow floral border will appear on one edge and a velvet or chenille-dotted border on the other.

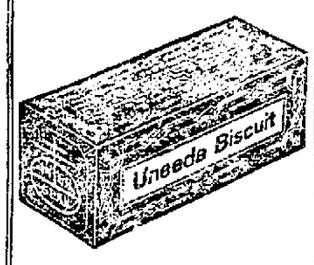

A great many buttons in mother-of-pearl, crystal, amber and tortoise-shell are now being worn.

IS ABLE TO SIT UP.

Hazel Newport, the little girl who was seriously injured when her father and brother were killed on the Swinney park railroad bridge a few weeks ago, is now able to sit up in bed at the St. Joseph hospital, where she has been since the accident. Attending nurses state that she has every chance for recovery.

TENNIS FANS SAY SHE'S COMING CHAMP.

Daisy Upham, declared by experts to be the coming woman tennis champion. In several matches Miss Upham has defeated Sarita Wood, former title holder. Her back-hand drives and steady returns from the back court show remarkable court generalship and it is expected that she will bring new honors to California in the next championship tourney. California has already produced a great number of tennis champions, most famous of whom was probably May Sutton. Maurice McLoughlin, present title holder, is a Californian.

When listening to advice from a mother who tells you that she has buried three children and knows something about raising babies, better find some mother who has her children still with her and let her tell you how she saved them.

The summer days are here. Take good care of your ice box. Keep it clean and sweet all the time. A good way to do this is to wash it, say, once a week with boiling hot water containing a little soda. Also be careful to keep it free from stale and decaying foods of every kind. Scrupulous cleanliness is the only way to avoid the danger of ptomaine poisoning and even the lesser intestinal disorders that are caused by eating soured, stale and partially decayed foods.

The vacation season is here, so be careful. Yes, we mean just that, be careful! The summer resort dangers are many and should be avoided. Two very important matters to be looked into are flies and the water supply. The summer resort keeper whose houses or cottages are not well screened and who does not keep the flies out of his kitchen and dining-room is not a safe person to patronize. Shallow wells in close proximity to out-door toilets are also dangerous.

A good many of the small lakes at summer resorts are polluted by surface drainage and seepage from privy vaults and in this way the water from shallow wells near such lakes is dangerous and should not be used unless boiled or treated chemically to make it safe. Here is an easy way to treat water that you suspect of being contaminated with sewerage or surface drainage filth: Take a level teaspoonful of chloride of lime and dissolve thoroughly in a common coffee cup of water. Then pour into a suitable receptacle and dilute with three cupfuls of water. A single teaspoonful of this dilution will purify two gallons of water. This will give between four and five parts of free chlorin to a million parts of water and will destroy in ten minutes all typhoid, cholera or any of the dysentery germs. The water thus treated will be free from taste or odor and if put into clean stoppered bottles can be kept always ready for use.

Have you ever taken thought of the far-reaching influence of good sanitary laws when they are properly enforced? Take, for example, epidemics of the dangerous communicable diseases; the laws regulating these are above all other laws in scope and authority, because they are intended for the protection of human lives. But aside from unusual or emergency conditions, sanitary laws do a great many things. They help to give us better foods by compelling care and cleanliness on the part of those who prepare, handle or serve foods of every kind. Under the enforcement of such laws, restaurants and hotels must have clean kitchens; preservers of foods must maintain a high standard of cleanliness and keep them free from chemical preservatives or dangerous adulterants of every kind. Garbage and other dangerous wastes must be properly disposed of. Water must be kept pure and safe and foodstuffs must be carefully screened from flies. Common drinking cups and dangerous roller towels abolished and neighborhood or community nuisances of every kind that affect the public health regulated and controlled.

So, it is easy to see that sanitary laws are indispensable for community good and safety. And in order to get the greatest amount of benefit from them, we all should lend our best support to their enforcement and be ready to obey them all the time.

Katherine Bement Davis, commissioner of corrections for New York City, says on making bad girls good—"This is about all one can tell a mother to do, to provide amusement, occupation and companionship for her daughter under reasonable requirements. One assumes that she loves her daughter, and that is the most important of all. With proper work and recreation and an interest in some unfortunate, and regular rules, and with love, it is the exceptional girl who goes wrong."

BRIDES! GO A-MARKETING!

BY CAROLINE COE.

When the young bride's thoughts turn to canning, she will prove herself a wise young woman if she will go to the store herself and do her own marketing.

This will insure her getting fresh and not over-ripe fruits and vegetables and will be more economical by far than leaving the choice to the storekeeper.

Besides these two good reasons it will give her experience in marketing and add the personal interest which is so essential to good home-making.

LOVE PIRATE BREAKS WOMAN'S HEART AND LEAVES TRAIL OF BAD CHECKS.

BERTHA KEATS HAMILTON.

Oakland Cal., July 8. Frederick Keats Hamilton, love pirate and forger who claims to be heir to a $2,000,000 fortune is the center of a mystery that involves two brides, a divorced wife, another wooed maiden and many cipher telegrams.

Recently Hamilton married Bertha Arlett of San Diego, Cal., and after living with her about a month eloped with Mrs. "Johnnie" Mae Dunbar, a rich widow, whom he married at Stockton, Cal. The couple is now thought to be enroute for New York state from which Hamilton cannot be extradited except on a felony charge. He has sent back a couple of cipher telegrams to Mrs. J. M. Kinsley, sister of his latest bride. These are the only clew the police have.

Investigation of Hamilton's career shows him to be a heartbreaker by profession. Here is his record:

He has a divorced wife in Oakland previously unheard of.

He visited matrimonial agencies after his purported California marriage on May 26, and secured the names of women to court.

He wooed Miss Aura Miller in whirlwind fashion.

He met the wife whom he married at Stockton through a marriage bureau. She was Mrs. "Johnnie" Mae Dunbar, temporarily of Oakland, said to be a San Diego widow.

He created a story of his being heir to a fortune and the son of a physician knighted in England before he settled in Boston.

He issued checks which are declared worthless, including that with which he paid the first fee to the bureau through whom he met Mrs. Dunbar.

Mrs. Bertha Hamilton, the love pirate's first wife, refuses to issue a warrant for his arrest and says that she will write the story of her matrimonial ventures for the movies.

The meeting opened at promptly 4 o'clock with devotionals led by Miss Pauline Roth. The orchestra of the association furnished music for the meeting.

BIG FIGHT OVER SALOON LICENSE

Jackson Township May Go Dry Tuesday by Remonstrance Route.

Everything is set for the hearing in the commissioners' court Tuesday of the remonstrance against the granting of a saloon license to Clarence Roy, of Edgerton, against a renewal of whose permit voters of the township are making war. A blanket remonstrance has been filed, the issues are all made up and the commissioners will let the two sides "go to it" Tuesday. Roy has the only saloon in Jackson township and it is situated on the Indiana side of the state line. Much complaint has been made of the way the place is conducted and the anti saloon forces of the township met his application for a license with a remonstrance last week. The license under which Roy has been operating expires Tuesday, July 14, and to that date the commissioners adjourned the hearing. If Roy loses out he will have to close his saloon immediately. A lively tight is looked for at the hearing.

BOARD WILL ASK FOR MORE FUNDS

Needs $30,000 for Street Intersection and Other Accounts.

Mayor Hosey, Messrs. Singrey, Kelly and Hilgemann, of the board of works, and City Engineer Randall went into conference with City Comptroller W. C. Baade Monday afternoon to discuss the appropriation of about $30,000 from the general fund to the street intersection, street and sewer maintenance and repair and other funds. It was hoped to arrive at an agreement so that the request of the comptroller and the proper ordinances might be prepared in time to submit to the regular meeting of the city council Tuesday evening.

The board and city engineer Monday morning carefully went over those streets for which pavement is demanded and thirteen of those for which the city was most imperatively under obligation to allow pavements. The street intersections on these thoroughfares will cost the city $24,300. There now remains in the street intersection fund $8,800 of the $20,000 appropriated early in the year to take care of a deficit of the old board and carry on work for which contracts were let at the end of last year. This leaves $15,500 to be appropriated to the street intersection account. If this money is obtained it will make, with the $30,000 appropriated in 1913 for this year and already expended, the $20,000 appropriated this eary and the $2,500 recently appropriated for paving inspection, heretofore paid out of the intersection fund, a total of $52,500 appropriated for paving account in 1914. And this does not cover all the board needs to do the work for which there is a demand.

Besides the intersection account appropriation, the board wants $5,000 appropriated to the sewer maintenance and repair account, $5,000 to the street maintenance and repair account, $1,000 to the account of advertising and printing made necessary by the increased paving program, $1,000 to the city hall account and possibly $500 to purchase a runabout for the building inspection department. This last item may be withdrawn.

In addition to these appropriations the board of works will shortly ask for an appropriation of $15,000 to purchase the Rabus property adjoining the city hall property on the east for offices and storerooms for the city light and power department.

The streets selected by the board for pavement are Hayden, Wayne Trace, St. Marys, Putnam, Grant avenue and the Wayne street intersection, Caroline, Webster, Maumee, Oneida, Lake, Murray, Fifth, Crescent and Superior.

Before the conference it was understood Comptroller Baade was willing to sanction an appropriation of $5,000 to the street intersection account, but no more.

MAY FIGHT DOUBLE TRACK.

Property Owners Oppose Franchise from Creighton to Pontiac.

Property owners on Calhoun street from Creighton avenue to Pontiac street will oppose the granting to the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company of a franchise for a double track on Calhoun street between the two cross streets named. The franchise was scheduled to come up for action before the board of public works Monday afternoon and it was expected that the board would grant it. The franchise must go to the city council for approval and the opinion of the members of the board was that the remonstrance should be considered there instead of by the board in order that the council, as direct representatives of the people, might have an opportunity to pass upon the matter.

The objecting property owners take the position that the part of Calhoun street over which it is proposed to lay a double track was but recently paved and that they were assessed for paving on a part of the street the traction company now wants to occupy. They would like to be reimbursed. Another objection is that Calhoun street south of Creighton avenue is narrower than north of Creighton, and a double track will greatly constrict the driveways on either side of the tracks. There is apprehension that sooner or later an effort will be made to widen the street.

LIGHT TOWER FOR LAWTON PARK.

Acting on the suggestion of Mayor Hosey, the board of works and the board of park commissioners have agreed to remove the electric light tower that for many years has been established on the grounds of the Harmer school to Lawton park. The two boards will equally divide the cost of making the change which will be effected at once. Bids for the work were to be received by the park board Monday afternoon, and the contract for taking down, removing and re-erecting the tower was awarded to the Indiana Engineering and Construction company for $100. The engineering company's bid was $430. Similar towers have been placed in Swinney and Reservoir parks.

MAY GET MOTOR FIRE ENGINES.

Following the demonstration at the burning of the Pfeiffer hardware store on Columbia street a week ago that three of the fire engines in use by the city are seriously defective, the board of safety is considering the advisability of replacing them with motor-driven engines of a type yet to be decided upon. The engines of companies 4, 5 and 6, purchased in 1893, failed to stand up well under the severe test of the Pfeiffer fire and are now undergoing repairs. Mayor Hosey and the board of safety favor the substitution of motor-driven apparatus throughout the fire department as rapidly as the city can afford to install it. The matter may be submitted to the city council shortly.

GETS REWARD, ANYWAY.

A lad by the name of Bowman received five dollars Sunday afternoon at the Children's day celebration by the Moose at Swinney park for his daring in crawling up a tree after a toy parachute which was dropped from a balloon which made an ascension. The parachute contained several prizes and the person who caught it was to keep them but the lad received a better prize than the parachute contained.

No one had a chance to catch it for when it fell it caught in a large tree in the park and remained there until young Bowman crawled the tree after it. After a hard climb he reached the parachute and dropped it, but when he reached the ground again all the prizes had been grabbed by children and all that was left him as a reward for his efforts was a stick of chewing gum.

To repay him for his work of skill and bravery, some gentlemen nearby made up a purse of five dollars and presented it to him.

As jolly a company as one could find was the number of girls who spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Flora Roehm in honor of Miss Olga Baade, of Cincinnati, who is visiting in the city. There was music by Miss Clara Homeyer, games and supper of an especially tempting kind that all contributed to the good time enjoyed by Misses Ella Bartles, Olga Baade, Clara Homeyer, Gertrude Gale, Lona Holle, Clara Anweiler, Helen Thiele and Clara Roehm.

Bumper Crops for 1914, Says Darling

Albert J. Earling

Milwaukee, Wis., July .—"Prosperity is on the way," announces A. J. Earling, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, who has just returned from a tour of northwestern wheat fields. "The northwest will yield a bumper crop this year" is Earling's prediction, "and good crops means more demand for labor and business prosperity generally."

HOME NEWSPAPER

When a man is through with his day's work and is sitting down resting in his home, he can not read the advertisements on the fence, and the hand bills and circulars that were left on the door step during the day have blown away or been destroyed. He calls for the paper and there finds the merchant's announcement, and with nothing to bother his mind he reads it carefully and calls his wife's attention to it, and they decide to go to the merchant's store and examine what is advertised.

HAS A PRISON RECORD.

From the national bureau of identification in Washington the Fort Wayne police have received information that the man arrested here for assault and battery and giving his name as Walter McCormick is Wadislaus Najorski and that he was sent up from Buffalo, N. Y., in 1906, for highway robbery, serving a term in Auburn prison. Suspicion that the man is a crook was aroused by the fact that a freshly healed gunshot wound was found in his breast after he was arrested here. McCormick went into the Pennsylvania roundhouse and beat up John Dohrman, blamed for the loss of his job. When in custody of the officers at the home of Detective Sergeant W. F. Pappert on John street awaiting the arrival of the police wagon McCormick broke out of the door and ran to Guy street, where he was headed off by the patrol auto. He refused to stop even when shots were fired over his head.

HIT-AND-RUN IS STRONGEST PLAY

Jones is Specialist and He Came Near Beating Local Crew.

Manager James Jones, native and taxpayer of London, Ky., manager of the Grand Rapids team, and head of an interesting family, is a specialist.

He has abiding faith in the hit and run play and in his ability to deliver the hit for the other fellow to do the running and his confidence and ability came mighty near spilling the beans in an 8 to 7 sun baked contest at the Calhoun street enclosure Sunday in which the home talent figured on the eight end.

In a frantic attempt to stop a ninth inning rush, Bill Cramer had most throttled the enemy with two gone and two strikes and no ball on the manager. Cramer suspected that something was brewing so he tried to waste the next ball he pitched, or rather he tried to get it just enough outside for the champ's new chief to go after it. And he did.

Jones let it be known that he was going after the next one and he hit it to middle field and Grimes had such a good start that although the ball was fielded rapidly, the tally went over and was the run that pulled the enemy up to within one of a tie.

Baseball had no charm for fandom yesterday and nothing short of a battle to decide the championship would have wooed them away from the shade of the family tree and the sundry cooling drinks that were what country correspondents term "the order of the day." For a Sabbath without rain to keep down the attendance, the gate was the smallest Fort Wayne has ever had in the history of the Central league.

Francis M. Atkins was unblanketed for the Sabbath fray and his pards put him on Easy street with a three-run jump on the champs but he went bad in the second and three healthy swats and an upset by Bill Thompson in which he spilled Harry Martin at the plate, put the enemy on even terms.

The going got a bit heavy for the former Athletic in the third and Grover Cleveland Young, who had been chased in the Saturday combat, was called by wireless from the vicinity of the club house, where he had been intermittently warming up for some time. This warming up business is strictly a baseball term and this explanation is made because no really sane person could possibly understand why a pitcher had to warm up yesterday.

Young endured until the opening half of the ninth round, when the game promised to go to overtime, and with one gone and a couple on the bases, Cramer was signaled and got into the running. He managed to pull through but it was tough bailing to save the game, which went to the winning column of Young.

McLafferty featured the game with some spectacular work. In the first inning he went to the overflow bleachers—almost—and picked off a foul fly. In the fourth, with two strikes on him, he tried to duck a bad ball, it tipped his bat and the catcher got it and put him out.

In the eighth he came thundering toward the plate on Holderman's infield tap and spied Lincoln Castle the opposing backstop, waiting for him with the ball in his extended hand. He jumped over the ball and registered what proved to be the winning run.

Elmer Ponder remained in the box during the whole game because the new manager had nobody to take his place. Thomas had worked through nine innings on Friday, Cleon Webb did the same sort of stunt Saturday and Paynter was being saved for the openin grame at home today.

The ground conditions were responsible for the extra base hits. The outfielders camped right in front of most of the bingles tha went down for doubles but the grounf was baked and the ball hopped right and left and it was impossible for them to gauge it properly.

EVANSVILLE HAS SOME REAL FANS

Used to Heat Down There and Four Thousand Attend a Game.

Larry Quinlan dragged his limp bunch of Hottentot athletes into Fort Wayne from Evansville early Monday morning after sixteen innings of Sabbath baseball in a temperature that the manager swears was 112 degrees and in this statement he is backed up by the entire team.

All good teams stick to the manager and when he makes a statement they boost for him. Ball players say that Evansville is the hottest place this side of the place that the churchmen are battling against and there is good reason to believe that Quinlan was right or nearly so in the statement.

However, Evansville fans to the number of 4,000 turned out to see the games. There was a time a few years ago when Fort Wayne could poke fun at Evansville folk and say it was a rotten ball town, but the day is gone unless local fandom gets a move on it. Evansville was in last place a year ago and drawing to beat the cars.

* * *

Among the baseball assets Manager Quinlan has one new outfielder by the name of Spear. Yes, of course, anybody could do it but puns are gone out of style and thus it is wise to refrain from any reference to the fact that he may spear 'em in the outer garden.

This Spear looks good, according to Larry, and he says he was once in the Central league as a member of the South Bend club. Terre Haute secured him from the Henderson team of the Kitty league.

* * *

Also Mr. Quinlan has a couple of new pitchers to put on exhibition in this thriving city. They are Nehf and Witte, who have joined the club since it was here on its last trip. Leonard Madden is at his home in Toledo, O., nursing a brokne finger he sustained in Grand Rapids, but Tom Cantwell and Walter Miller are both doing good service under the conditions.

* * *

Manager Harry Martin is firm in his belief that if he could work Grover Young every fourth day he would win more games. He is prompted to believe this by the fact that a five-day layoff causes the pitcher to lose control, which is an essential.

Young was routed Saturday afternoon and it was all because he could not get the ball over until he got in the hole, and when he did somebody just cracked it and he was derricked.

No pitcher in the Central league has a better stock in trade than Young and this season finds him a little short of control unless he has plenty of work.

* * *

Freddie Streeter came through during the Grand Rapids series with a brand of hitting that was extremely encouraging. In the parlance of the game he "can go get 'em," meaning that he can cover the ground, but until the present stay at home he has not shown much batting strength.

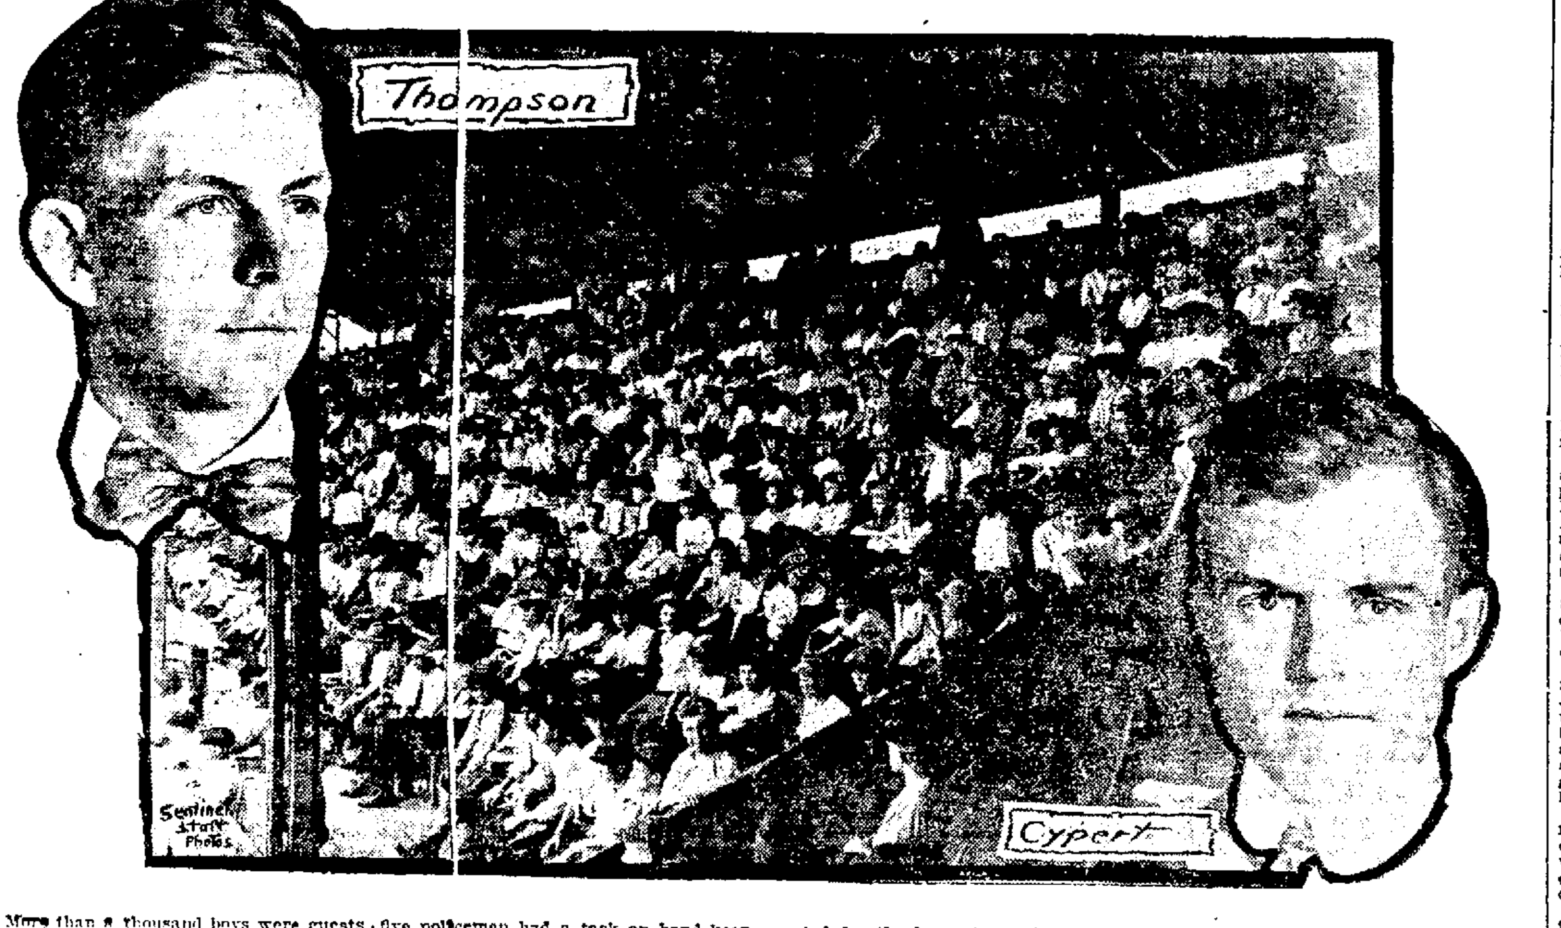

"Red" Smith also is doing some good work with his bludgeon. He came through yesterday with three hits in five trips to the plate. He has been meeting the ball squarely for some time but has been unlucky in driving it right at a fielder.

* * *

Rain this morning was welcomed by Jack Rady and all of the ball players. The ground down in the park is as hard as concrete and aside from being hard on the feet of the athletes it makes it difficult to judge ground balls.

These Boys Munched Peanuts as Guests of the Fort Wayne and Grand Rapids Base Ball Clubs and Enjoyed Every Minute

More than a thousand boys were guests Saturday afternoon of Owner Claude Varnell and William E. Essick, of the Fort Wayne and Grand Rapids ball teams respectively, and Bert Dennis and four or five policemen had a task on hand keeping the youngsters within bound. They ate peanuts given by the management, washed them down with cold drinks, rooted for the home team, jeered at the visitors, and had one section of the grandstand all to themselves.

WEAK HEARTS IN BASE BALL GAME

Some of the Athletes Are Troubled and Take Long Chances.

Most ball players are husky, powerful fellows. But occasionaly one gets in who lacks the physical endurance of his mates. He has to run along a lot on his nerve.

Such a fellow is Roxie Middleton, the little outfielder of Oakland. Last season Roxie was the battling sensation of the Western league. Many times the remark was made that if Middleton had a strong heart he would have been a star in the majors years ago.

Middleton is troubled with his heart, according to his friends. He seldom played at Denver when with the Western league because of the high altitude there. But finally when some person came across with a remark that Roxie was afraid to appear before the Grizzly fans and he heard it the lad was furious.

Against the advise of everyone he insisted on playing there the next time his club invaded the Colorado capital and ran bases recklessly, taking all sorts of chances.

Another fellow who is said to be affected in much the same manner is Jimmie Murray, recently purchased by the Boston Beans from the International league. Jimmie is a clever outfielder and a good hitter. He had a trial some years ago with the Browns and failed to make good. But this isn't remarkable, for few have been able to make good there.

Occasionally Jimmie is taken with fainting spells. He has been known to circle the bases on a home run. Then, when he came up the next time and the excitement had passed, he dropped in a dead faint at the plate.

The remarkable feature about Murray is that, in spite of his heart, he is a wonderful swimmer. Folks usually believe that it takes a man with a stout heart to make headway against the waves, but Jimmie is the exception. In the winter months he acts as a life saver at Ormond Beach, Fla.

IF

If the rain prevented a game this afternoon there will be two for one admission fee on Tuesday afternoon, the first starting promptly at 2 o'clock. This was agreed upon by the Fort Wayne and Terre Haute managers at noon.

However, the ground at League park dries quickly and there was every probability when the agreement was made the Monday game would be played.

HILTON MAY BE REAL COMEBACK.

Although he won the Sunningdale tournament and the gold vase that goes with it, Harold Hilton has not been playing up to his usual form lately, but much is expected of him in the coming tournaments, and maybe he will show the class that made him British, amateur champion.

OLD CENTRAL LEAGUER IS COMING AGAIN

"FIFTY PER CENT" DICKY BAYLESS.

FORMERLY IN CENTRAL.

Dick Bayless formerly was in the Central league and played with the Dayton club after Louis Heilbroner, president of the Central league, and at that time scout for the Cincinnati team, had picked him out of the bushes.

He could not stick with the Reds and went to Atlanta and played all over the Southern league before he finally found himself and bloomed out as a real ball player.

Venice, Cal., July 13.—In placing the Venice Tigers in the van of the Pacific Coast baseball league pennant race no member of the club has done more than Dickey Bayless, the mighty swatsman who holds down right field for Hap Hogan.

Bayless is known among the fans as "Fifty Per Cent Dick" because he is credited with half of the Venice team's success.

This year marks the last appearance of this clever outfielder on the coast. He is on the ice for the Chicago White Sox, with delivery arranged for at the end of the season.

Charley Comiskey, of the Chicago club, would like to have Bayless at once but Hogan is after the coast league penant, and knows that to let Dickey go now would end the Tigers' chances of winning.

The White Soxs' option on Bayless resulted from Doc White being turned over to the Tigers, Bayless being the man wanted by the Windy City club. Comiskey is especially hot after hard-hitting outfielders.

Bayless' enviable record has been mounting steadily ever since he came to the coast a few years ago. Manager Hogan secured him from the Southern league and he has been holding down an outfield job for Venice since that time.

Apparently Bayless is improving all the time. Last year he led the Coast league stickers with a batting average of .324. He clouted out 230 bases during the season and stole twenty-eight. He is a natural slugger, and had 10 home runs, 16 triples and 28 doubles to his credit in 1913.

Batting in great form this year, he again promises to lead the Coast league hitters.

DUCKING A PREACHER—HE WAS A FRIEND OF THE SUFFRAGETTES.

PHOTOGRAPH SHOWS LONDON MOB DUCKING THE REV. C. A. WILLS IN A PARK POND, WHILE LLOYD-GEORGE WAS MAKING A SPEECH A NUMBER OF MILITANT SUFFRAGETS INTERRUPTED HIM. THE REV. WILLS WAS WITH THE WOMEN AND DEFENDED THEM. THE CROWD RUSHED THE WOMEN, BUT THEY TOOK THE CLERGYMAN AND DUCKED HIM REPEATEDLY IN THE POND. HE WAS HALF-DROWNED WHEN THE POLICE RESCUED HIM.

STREET MASHER GETS HARD JOLT

Clarence DeVaux Draws $30 and Twenty-five Days in Jail.

Judge Kerr indicated in the city court Monday morning what he thinks of the genus street masher when he fined Clarence DeVaux $25 and costs and hung on twenty-five days in jail as a guarantee of good faith. DeVaux was prosecuted under a city ordinance of 1912 in which it was designed to get at that degenerate class that annoys and insults women on the streets. He was identified by Mrs. Emil Koeppel who, with her mother, Mrs. Bowman, was passing the Elks temple, Berry street and Maiden lane, when he stepped in front of her and claimed acquaintance. After looking at the man, Mrs. Koeppel told him he must be mistaken, but the fellow persisted and took her by the arm, saying, "Come on with me." Mrs. Koeppel and her mother hastened away, but the man followed, and they stepped into a yard and claimed protection. They were escorted to their home by a gentleman and his wife and there the story was related to Mr. Koeppel. Mr. and Mrs. Koeppel went down on Calhoun street, notified Officer Wilmoth of the affair and shortly DeVaux was identified as the man. He was waiting at the front of a 10-cent store for a lady, according to his testimony in the city court. He was placed under arrest. In his pocket was found a half-pint bottle of whisky. DeVaux pleaded not guilty and entered a general denial in court, where he was represented by two attorneys. Mrs. Koeppel and Mrs. Bowman identified him in the most positive manner. In inflicting the penalty Judge Kerr said it was a plain case of street "mashing," that DeVaux's guilt was beyond question and that such cases would always be severely dealt with in his court. DeVaux's attorneys appealed the case and furnished bond in the sum of $250.

Careless Driver Pays a Fine.

On his plea of guilty to a charge of leaving a horse untied in the street Judge Kerr fined Louis Solomon $10 and costs and warned him that he was fortunate his carelessness had not resulted in a shocking tragedy. Solomon left a team he had hired from the Meyer livery stables standing loose at the corner of Jefferson and Calhoun streets about 5 o'clock Sunday evening, while he stepped into a cigar store. The team took fright and dashed in a wild race north on Calhoun street, causing a panic in the big crowd that was massed on the west side of the thoroughfare north of Main to board Robison park cars. Everybody got out of the way but Michael G. Botzler, 735 East Washington street, who was knocked down and bruised, but not seriously hurt. Mr. Botzler had pushed his wife out of the way, but did not have time himself to escape. The team ran to the commons fill to Clinton street and then ran north of the ball park, crossed the rough south to Montgomery, where they were stopped. Half a dozen motorcycles and two automobiles joined in pursuit of the runaway team. Solomon, who is proprietor of a fish market, said that he only left his team "for a second," but offered nothing else in mitigation and paid his fine. Scores of persons were in peril from the runaway.

Over a Card Game.

William Archer was fined $1 and costs on his plea of guilty to a charge of assault and battery on Floyd R. Wolf. The men are employes at the Electric works and during the noon hour were two in a four-handed game of euchre. A dispute arose as to the count. Archer called Wolf a liar. Wolf wished it back on Archer. Archer landed three stiff ones on Wolf's mouth, badly cutting his lips and jolting four teeth loose. Archer admitted in court he had been a bit hasty.

Have Plenty on Ball.

Thomas Ball, an Englishman, was slated for drunkenness. He was arrested on Clinton street Saturday night by Detective Sergeant Peter Junk for attempting to assault August Laezure, an aged man. In court Ball was identified by the landlady of a Harrison street rooming house as one of her lodgers who had sneaked into the house, gathered up his clothing and sneaked out again. Ball said he had only got his coat and meant to go back. He had his wardrobe with him when arrested and it was in police headquarters while he testified. The case was continued until Tuesday.

Negro Assaults Colored Lady.

Dan Tolliver, a very black man negro, was fined $10 and costs for assaulting Mrs. Florence Williams, 1229 Hayden street, a light-complexioned colored lady. Mrs. Williams went into her back yard shortly after midnight and Tolliver grabbed her and tried to drag her across the alley to a stable where he lodges. After having her gown almost stripped from her the woman got away and notified the police. Motorcycle Officer Charles Eisenhut found Tolliver asleep in the stable. The negro made a strong argument that it was a case of mistaken identity, but there was no doubt and he went over.

Other City Court Cases.

Edward Hayes, a drunk of the rat type, couldn't give any account of himself save that he was from Detroit, bought the whisky he was loaded with on Sunday in Richmond and had just sent his wife $75. He went over for fifteen days.

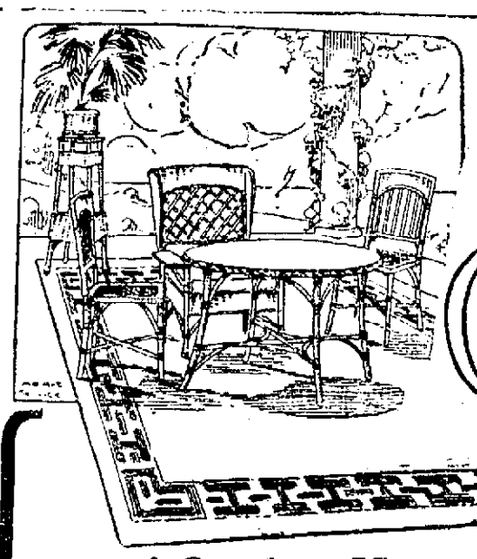

Pete Keegan and Joseph Mesta, two hoboes arrested by Special Officer Strasser of the Pennsylvania police service, were held until Tuesday under $50 bonds on charges of train climbing. They offered Officer Strasser $5 to let them go and are being investigated.

Wash Shirey and Arthur Cramer, drunks, got $1 and costs each and Roy Hagan, another drunk, was turned loose.

ENRAGED MAN USES A KNIFE

Orren C. Davis, of 1319 East Pontiac street, a passenger flagman on the Grand Rapids and Indiana, was cut in the right hip with a knife in the hand of a man whose name was not learned Saturday night. The wound is about an inch long and over an inch deep and is painful, though not considered serious by Dr. E. J. McOscar, the attending surgeon. The stabbing followed the expulsion of a passenger from train No. 4 at a point a short distance south of Vicksburg because he refused to pay fare. Conductor Pat McGee and Flagman Davis put the man off and when Davis was in the act of getting aboard the last car, the fellow struck at him with a knife and the blade inflicted the wound in the hip. The fellow immediately took to his heels and escaped. Mr. Davis was able to remain on the train and come to this city. He will be unable to work for several days. No. 4 is a through passenger train, passing Fort Wayne at 1:20 in the morning.

TRAIN STRIKES RUSSIANS.

One Beheaded and Other Loses His Left Arm.

Dennis Seivochenski was beheaded and John Donenski had the flesh stripped from the outer part of his left arm Sunday afternoon when they were struck by southbound passenger train, No. 8, on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road in the southern part of Grand Rapids. The men are laborers and were engaged in construction work on the Michigan and Chicago electric road, living in a camp a short distance out from Grand Rapids. They were en route to that city when the accident happened. Neither the engineer nor the fireman saw the men and their fate was not discovered for a few minutes after the train had passed. Then some of the yard men discovered them and had the wounded one sent to the hospital and the dead turned over to the undertaker. The train which struck these men runs between Grand Rapids and Chicago, via Kalamazoo.

KILLED ON GARY BRIDGE.

Stanley Ziemba Struck by Pennsylvania Train.

The second section of westbound Pennsylvania train, No. 21, in charge of Conductor Thomas P. McArdle and Engineer Charles Larimore, struck Stanley Ziemba, aged ten, on the river bridge at Gary Saturday afternoon and injured him so badly that he died an hour later. With other lads Ziemba was fishing from the bridge and failed to notice the approach in gtrain. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ziemba, who reside in Gary, near the scene of the accident.

SHOP CLERKS WON GAME.

A remarkable feature of the ball game at Weisser park Saturday afternoon, between teams from the testing room and the shop clerk's office at the Fort Wayne Electric works, was nine runs in the first inning by the shop clerks and none during the rest of the game. Those nine runs, however, decided the game, for the testing room boy's were able to make only 5. Two of those were home runs made by George Blakesley. The batteries were Thomas and Rich for the testing room and Overwitte and Glenn for the shop clerks. The testing room boys and the employes in the second story of the factory will have a game at Lawton park Saturday afternoon.

CEMENT WORKERS ELECT OFFICERS.

Permanent organization of the Cement Workers has been effected with the following officers: O. V. Summers, president; L. L. House, vice president; George N. Graves, recording and corresponding secretary; Charles Houser, financial secretary; F. J. Hayes, treasurer; George Japp, marshal; C. Jackson, sergeant-at-arms; Calvin Eddington, chairman finance committee. The other officers and the committees will be appointed at the meeting at the Elite hall next Friday evening. The new union is No. 139.

INSPECTING TELEGRAPH TOWERS.

Division Operator H. B. Reynolds and Assistant Trainmaster E. M. Reese, of the Pennsylvania, left on the division special train at 12:40 this afternoon to inspect telegraph towers between this city and Crestline. Inspection is being made today on the line between this city and Lima. Tonight the party will run into Crestline, remain over night and tomorrow inspect the Crestline-Lima portion of the line. Supt. W. M. Wardrop and Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton accompanied Messrs. Reese and Reynolds as guests as far as Lima today.

OBJECT TO ELEVATION.

While railways in many cities are being compelled to elevate their tracks, the residents in the west end of Cleveland are strenuously opposing a movement of the city council to have the Nickel Plate tracks in that part of Cleveland elevated. Elimination of grade crossings would be mutilation of the entire section of the city, argue the residents. It is said the railroad favors the elimination of the grade crossings in that section.

GETTING BUSY WITH EXCURSION.

The various business houses where Cedar Point excursion tickets are being sold for the Mutual Benefit association of the Fort Wayne Electric works report a good demand for them, though the excursion is nearly two weeks distant. In publishing the list of places where tickets are on sale Saturday the city papers omitted the name of Benner & Berghoff cigar and tobacco store on West Berry street. The excursion takes place on Saturday, July 25.

SWITCH AT NELSON'S CROSSING.

The Wabash will construct a switch at Nelson's crossing, three miles east of the city. It will be used for unloading stone for use in the construction of the Lincoln highway and for handling any other kind of freight in car load lots at that point. The siding will be 500 feet long and the maintenance of way department has been instructed to get the material on the ground at once for it.

SEVERED SOME VEINS.

William Green, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, had some veins cut this morning by broken glass. He was engaged in washing bottles, when one broke and the jagged edges punctured his wrist. He was attended at the dispensary by Dr. Fred Schulz.

Ed Harsh, Al Dininger, John M. Stephens and Harry Tiemann, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, and Benjamin Steinacker, of the blacksmith shop, are not a success as whortleberry pickers. PROTECTS EVANSVILLE BREWERS.

Governor Ralston Raises Point in Extradition Proceedings.

Indianapolis, July 13.—Governor Samuel M. Ralston, of Indiana, has refused to honor requisition papers from Governor Hooper, of Tennessee, for the extradition of seven officers of two Evansville, Ind., breweries who are wanted at Memphis on grand jury indictments, charging them with violation of the "four mile" state prohibition law.

Errors in filling out the documents was given as the cause for refusing to honor the requisition papers. Governor Ralston also cited court decisions tending to show that he would not honor the extradition of the men even if the papers were corrected. The governor held that it would be necessary to show that the men fled from Tennessee after committing a crime. It is understood the Tennessee officers desired to get the brewers to that state in order to prosecute the "higher-ups" outside of the state who have been sending liquor into the prohibition state.

DROWNS WHILE BATHING.

Evansville, Ind., July 13.—Edward Appel, 17 years old, was drowned yesterday afternoon while bathing in the Ohio river near here. In going to his rescue his companion, Walter Wischer, almost lost his life. He was rescued as he went down a third time.

L. D. Marks, a roomer in the lodging house of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hammond, 1320 South Calhoun street, flipped a cigarette stub from the window of his front room late Saturday night and in a few moments the awning over the entrance to the Correct Pressing club was a mass of flames. An alarm was turned in and the thirteen roomers in the place left their beds and fled in night clothing to the street.

THE MARKETS

POTATO MARKET IS STEADY.

The potato market is very steady according to a commission man who stated Monday that the home grown supply was arriving in large quantities but that the quality was exceedingly poor. The prices are remaining at the same place and no change is expected.

The farmers on the market Monday reported that the greatest portion of hay had been made and it was seldom that a field could be seen that the grass was still standing. The markets were small today, only ten loads of hay and grain being weighed by the city scalemaster.

All other prices remained practically the same, with the exception of the price on corn, which fell a few cents. It is predicted, however, that this price will ascend in a few days, as the outlook for oats for this year is not so bright. Rust has been destroying large fields of the grain, causing it to ripen quickly and not allowing the heads time enough to fill.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, July 13.—Prospects of the largest receipts of the season here and at Kansas City had a bearish effect today on wheat. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅛c lower to ⅛c advance, were followed by an all around decline. The close was steady at ⅝c to ⅞c net decline.

Hot dry weather over most of the belt brought about a sharp rise in corn. After opening ⅛c to ⅞c up, the market scored yet additional gains.

Prices closed weak, ⅞c to 1@1⅛c net lower.

Oats proved weak, compared with corn. Prices bulged with the coarser grain but a fair increase of selling pressure led to a setback.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 13.—The new week brought little change to the stock market, the undertone again showing weakness in minor issues while investment shares held firm. Gould securities, Ontario and Western and Western Maryland were lower, but Missouri Pacific convertible 5s inclined towards improvement. Chesapeake and Ohio, one of the last week's heavy features, yielded another point, while New Haven advanced a point. In the special group there were such counter movements as a one point loss in U. S. rubber and a gain of as much for dry goods preferred.

The course of the market suggested that the bears were searching for weak spots in their efforts to depress the general list. Canadian Pacific, the most active stock, fell 3¾ points on combined selling by Canadian houses and the short interest. Baltimore and Ohio and Louisville and Nashville lost a point or more under similiar pressure, while New Haven was feverish, declining to its recent low level. Obscure stocks were temporarily neglected while the leaders, including Harriman's, Hills, Anthracite and Steel, were on firm ground. Bonds were heavy, with weakness in western Maryland and New York, Westchester and Boston 4½s the latter a New Haven subsidiary. These issues fell 3¾@5½ points respectively.

Selling of standard shares became more pronounced in the last hour under the lead of Canadian Pacific, which sold at its lowest price in four days. Declines elsewhere in this division ranged from one to two points, with a feeble rally at the end.

Liquidation of investment issues after temporary firmness was the feature of today's market. Canadian Pacific declined five points on heavy offerings. The closing was weak.

FENCE DIVIDES THEM.

Sex Separation in Effect at Chicago Bathing eBach.

Chicago, July 13.—The system of sex separation was put into operation today at Chicago's principal municipal bathing beach. A fence built out into the water as far as women were allowed to go was guarded by police to see that men did not pass it. Protests of husbands and wives were disregarded. Complaints that women had been annoyed by men were said to have caused the innovation.

WOMAN ATTACKS LAY MONK.

Rasputin, Prominent Figure in Russia, May Not Survive.

St. Petersburg, Russia, July 13.—Details reached here today in a dispatch to the Courier of a probably fatal attack on the mystic lay monk, Gregory Rasputin, whose influence over the emperor is said to be very great. Rasputin, who has been one of the most prominent figures in Russia in recent years, was visiting his native village, Pokrovsky, in the province of Tobolsk, Siberia, when a woman, a stranger to the locality, approached him pretending to be a beggar. After accosting him she stabbed him in the abdomen with a long military dirk.

The assailant was arrested and confessed she had waited two weeks for the opportunity. She said she had decided to kill the monk because he was a false prophet and was leading everyboy in Russia astray.

Doctors who examined the mank's wound declared it was likely to prove fatal.

No other coronation rite in Europe reaches back to so early a period as that of Great Britain. From the Anglo-Saxon order of the coronation of Egbert was derived the ancient form of the coronations of the kings of France.

If you put a thousand dollar mortgage on your city home, you've no other way under the sun to pay it off except out of your wage earnings. If you put a thousand dollar mortgage on a suburban home that you buy from me, there's another way to pay it off. The proceeds from 450 laying hens will take care of a thousand dollar mortgage within one year. The proceeds from four cows will produce a thousand. Five brood sows will come across with a sufficient number of pigs for the market to pay off a thousand dollar mortgage within one year. Three acres in potatoes will produce twelve hundred bushels ordinary yield. Figure it up at 85c per bushel. Some day you'll wake up and get wise to what you ought to get your money into.
My tracts are all located at interurban station stops, from two acres up to ten, improved and unimproved.
